

OUTFALL BREAK AFTERMATH

Grand Jury Probe in Pacifica Demanded

A grand jury investigation into the loss of the Sharp Park sewage outfall line has been demanded of Pacifica's City Council.

Karl H. Strutz, Pacifica realtor and one of ten candidates running this year for City Council, demanded the investigation at a council meeting last week to "suppress any undue malicious stigmatization of the innocent parties" and to "affix the negligence on the responsible parties."

His demand was backed by the heads of two citizens' committees that had led a successful campaign in behalf of two bond issues, the proceeds of which paid for the outfall line and other sewage treatment improvements.

In a letter to the council, the citizens asked for "a complete and candid statement" of the council's investigation into the matter.

Divers early in February discovered that a 600-foot steel section of the outfall line had broken off and was lying three feet down in the ocean bottom, buried in and filled with sand.

The City Council has scheduled a special meeting for tonight to discuss all aspects of the outfall pipe break.

At last week's meeting Councilman Harland Minshew wanted to know why a portion of a tape recording concerning changes in specifications in plans for the line last September 12, had been completely erased.

Strutz wrote the council that "many people have informed me they are deeply disturbed by the recent costly sewer disaster."

"The resignation of the city engineer should not be accepted until the full responsibilities are ascertained for all parties concerned in this fiasco."

(City Engineer Al Roberts submitted his resignation only last month.)

"All taxpayers of the city of Pacifica have a right to know the full facts concerning the defective condition of the submarine outfall in an unbiased report."

"It is with all these factors in mind I request the City Council to take the initiative and call for a full Grand Jury investigation into this matter."

"Further, such an investigation may result in the recovery of city funds."

In a second letter to councilmen, Robert Subert, chairman of a former citizens' committee for sanitary bonds, and Harry E. Moseley, chairman of a citizens' committee for sanitary and water bonds, declared:

"In order to still rumors and avoid endangering the public trust in the administration of the city the undersigned respectfully request the City Council prepare for public release a complete and candid statement."

Minshew asserted that as far as he has ascertained, the city engineer has had no responsibility in the matter.

Minshew complained that a section of a tape recording dealing with "Change Order No. 3" on the outfall line was deleted after it was recorded last year.

The change order, according to minutes of the last September meeting, dealt with "the deletion of gravel ballast over two outfalls and substitution of anchors made of concrete blocks connected with chain which will cause no change in the contract price."

Minshew pointed out any citizen has the right to come to the City Hall and examine all job change orders concerning the project, work orders or original plans.

Mayor Harold Feyge commented that the council has done "all humanly possible" in investigating why the sewer line washed away and asked "anyone with additional information" to contact councilmen.

CURIOSITY VS. DANGER

Tidal Wave Alert Spurs 2-Way Flow

Last week's tidal wave alert, stemming from the Alaska earthquake, produced a two-way flow of humanity along North County ocean shores.

In Pacifica, hundreds of residents were evacuated from beach front homes and low-lying areas. Emergency centers were set up in Oceana High School and Ortega elementary school further inland.

B'nai Israel Gains Permit For Building

Congregation B'nai Israel has won a reversal of an earlier denial and been granted a use permit by the County Board of Supervisors for the construction of a new $330,000 synagogue at 1375 Annie Street, Colma.

Supervisors last week accepted new plans showing an enlarged underground parking area driveway width from 10 to 12 feet and increasing of parking stall sizes by 9-by-20 feet.

The board earlier this year had denied a use permit on the basis that the proposed site of the synagogue was only 15,000 square feet, some 5,000 less than is required for a church location under county ordinance.

With its parking under the church and adjacent in an underground area of some 8,400 square feet, the congregation more than meets the county requirement. (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

Former Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci will be the main speaker at dedication ceremonies of Westmoor Park Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

What's This? Cable cars in Daly City?

WHEN DALY CITY decided to ask San Francisco to extend its municipal transportation system into Daly City, nobody ever thought that would include the cable cars, one of which is seen here rolling by the War Memorial Community Center on Mission Street. Well, not REALLY rolling by. It's a bit of trick photography and to be more specific, our way of saying April Fool on this All Fool's Day. For more April Foolishness, see Don Miller's Pacifica Parade column on page 15.

Head-on Car Crash Kills Coastsider

Edward J. Benoit, 31-year-old bartender of 1160 Encanto Way, Pacifica, was killed Saturday night when his car collided head-on with another auto on Cabrillo Highway in Pacifica.

Witnesses told highway patrolmen that Benoit was driving his sedan southbound at 7:10 p.m. about four-tenths of a mile north of Crespi Drive when the car suddenly veered across the center line.

There was no explanation for the sudden movement and witnesses said there was no apparent cause.

The other car, containing three Modesto women, was a convertible driven by Carolyn Anna Pardy, 22.

Benoit's body was trapped inside the wreckage of the auto and Pacifica firemen worked almost an hour extricating it.

He was dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital.

QUICK ACTION

D.C., Cow Palace To Air Problems

That barrage of criticism leveled by the Daly City Council and residents at the Cow Palace last week produced quick action.

Mayor Michael DeBernardi reported that the Cow Palace board of directors had invited city officials to sit down and talk over mutual problems.

And on another front, a crew of Cow Palace workers last Wednesday afternoon cleaned out debris, stones and branches from a drainage ditch that neighbors had complained was not carrying off storm water from the Cow Palace parking lot.

Instead, they said, the water was running into their backyards.

City Attorney Paul Hupf said last week the city had been plagued with a number of problems with the Cow Palace, involving police and fire protection responsibilities.

The Cow Palace vigorously fought Daly City's annexation of Bayshore City last year and had a special bill pushed through the State Senate, which would have had the effect of killing the annexation move.

However, the bill was killed by an assembly committee.

Among other problems involved are traffic control signal lights and parking.

The weather outlook for the next four days is forecast for the North County by Weather Bureau officials. Showers, beginning today, will be recurrent for the rest of the week with temperatures below normal. A high temperature of 60 degrees and a low of 44 is forecast for today.

1st National To Dedicate New Building

First National Bank of Daly City's new building at 6600 Mission Street will be dedicated at 11:30 a.m. today.

Participating will be the bank's directors headed by Ricardo Lagomarsino, chairman of the board; Superior Court Judge Frank B. Blum; Mayor Michael DeBernardi; Claudia Smith, Miss Daly City, and Evert Terminiello, executive vice president of the bank.

A bronze plaque, inscribed with the names of the charter directors and the date of dedication, has been installed beside the Mission Street entrance. It will be unveiled by Lagomarsino. He will be assisted by Miss Daly City.

A week-long open house celebration at the bank will get underway Monday.

D. C. Planners Grant Zoning Of Serramonte

By RON BATES

The largest single zoning action in the history of Daly City took place last week when the planning commission completely zoned the 916-acre Serramonte development, formerly known as the Christen Ranch.

The commission approved the zoning with only one change after having held the matter over for two meetings.

At the suggestion of Commissioner McRobert Stewart, a strip of apartments adjacent to the Junipero Serra Freeway was zoned for single family dwellings to eliminate possible encroachment of apartment parking into a single family-zoned area.

E. V. Schulhauser of Suburban Realty, the developers, said the change would be effected.

Stewart cast the only "no" vote against the zoning action. He said the commission should first approve a master plan of the area. Then the zoning of each section could be done as the need arose, he explained.

And he added: "This would eliminate the need for changes of the present zoning."

Schulhauser stressed the advantages of zoning the area at one time. He said it would be easier to obtain financing, tenants for the shopping center and data to support engineering plans for the design of utilities and for grading.

Construction of the development, which includes a 73-acre shopping center, tower apartments and a medical-dental office complex, is scheduled to begin in the southern end with single family homes and an office for the developer.

Representatives of Suburban Realty have signed an annexation agreement with the city council, but the planning commission has stated they wanted to study the matter at a special session thoroughly before taking any action on it.

In other business, the commission held over two requests from Thomas Callan for apartment zonings in the older section of the city.

Callan said he planned to build apartment houses on the west side of Miriam Street between Knowles and Los Banos avenues and on the east side (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

S.S.F. Gets Woolworth Warehouse

A new warehouse for the distribution of Woolworth merchandise throughout the western United States will be built in the San Francisco Bay Industrial Park in South San Francisco.

P. Smith Woolworth's Pacific regional vice president said construction will begin in the next few months, on a 10-acre site, and the new facilities are scheduled to become operational in the spring of 1965.

Woolworth's present warehouse facilities at Fifteenth and Folsom Streets will be closed when the new building is (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Contest Has 2nd Hopeful

The Miss Daly City derby gained its second entry this week. She is Susan Bernard, 16, of 996 Wildwood Avenue.

A 5-2 blonde, Susan is an 11th-grade student at Westmoor High School and hopes someday to be a legal secretary and a model.

Applications for the Miss Daly City contest may be obtained at the Daly City Chamber of Commerce office at 6454 Mission Street. The chamber is sponsoring the contest.

The applications also may be obtained at the office of The Post, 30 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City.

Steamed Ivy at Westmoor

By LOUANNE HEATH
Harried school officials found themselves up to their ivy beds in hot water and steam Monday morning as Westmoor High School's cantankerous hot water system sprang another in a long series of leaks.

This one was discovered by Westmoor Principal Glenn South, who noticed steam rising from a bed of ivy just south of the school's music building and not far from an area used by the Jefferson High School District as its data processing center. Since he wasn't accustomed to seeing steam rise out of ivy beds, South immediately knew the hot water line had a new leak.

He said later that the water system remained sufficiently intact, however, to continue to provide enough heat to classrooms and hot water for the cafeteria—despite the fact the new break occurred in a main feeder line leaving the boiler room.

"This break was away from the area traveled by the students and so offered no threat to their safety," South said. And he added:

"This has been going on for two years now and it is rather old hat to us. Nevertheless, we have alerted the students and teachers to the situation and they are constantly on the lookout for indications that a new leak may be developing."

"Steam usually appears first and gives us warning that a problem exists. Then the teachers and students leave the area without anyone having been in danger."

Cooper Bros., the plumbing firm that has been associated with efforts to maintain the current system, responded to a call Monday and within an hour and a half had the pipe exposed and a clamp readied for installation.

Monday's break came as district trustees were awaiting approval from the office of the county superintendent of schools to declare a state of emergency at the school.

ported that between 600 and 700 autos were parked around Oceana alone.

Police at Pedro Beach reported that the ocean had receded about 100 yards further than the low tide mark before tidal wave action brought the surf back in.

They said subsequent wave surges appeared to be four to six feet above normal but added that no damage was caused.

At about 3 a.m., the tidal wave alert was terminated and Pacificans were allowed to return to their homes.

The alert was the third in Pacifica in the last six months. In October of last year, two alerts were sounded about a week apart after earthquakes were reported in Japan.

Some residents were evacuated in the first alert but the second was cancelled after officials in Crescent City had reported only an imperceptible rise in the ocean level there.

requirements, it was claimed by the applicants.

Attorney Sidney Berlin, representing the applicants, submitted petitions and letters signed by more than 1,000 persons and by the Daly City Ministerial Association urging approval of the use permit.

Attorney John Fahey expressed his opposition to issuance of the permit, saying the church would pose a parking problem and was not suitable to a residential area.

This was challenged by an area resident, Mrs. Florence Schroeder of 1539 Sweetwood Drive who said a nearby horse barn is unattractive, breeds flies and mice and has been used as a car repair garage.

"That's your first-class neighborhood," she stated. "The synagogue will be a great asset."

The Congregation B'nai Israel has been seeking approval of its new site since being notified that its present synagogue at 67 Los Banos Avenue, Daly City, will be demolished for construction of a ramp for the Junipero Serra Freeway.

Benoit is survived by his wife, Hazel, and two children.

UNION CHARGE

Promotion List Use Questioned

The use of promotion and employment lists of tested personnel by the Daly City department heads has been questioned by Frank Gillis, representative of the Municipal Employees' Union.

Gillis appeared at a meeting of the Daly City Personnel Board to ask why men on the lists were being ignored.

He charged that department heads were passing over names on an employment list when filling positions and that they were removing the names when they were passed over three times.

He said the removal of names from the list was a decision that should be made by the Personnel Board. He specifically cited the promulgation list for utility man made up in October. The list is deleted now.

Dr. Paul Woolf, advisor to the board, pointed out that a department head is under no obligation to take a man because he is on the employment list, but can choose from any name on the list.

The board, however, decided to table the employment list question for further study.

Concerning the promotion list, Gillis asked why men who had passed the examination for promotion are not being promoted when there are job openings.

City Manager Edward Frank pointed out that positions were budgeted in advance and that if department heads found no need for the position, it was their prerogative not to fill it.

The board agreed with Gillis, however, and recommended to the council that if a promotional position became vacant, it should be filled as soon as possible.

In other action, the board welcomed James V. Grealish, who was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Albert Polonsky. Polonsky was appointed to the city council seat vacated by Joseph Verducci and is running for re-election.

golf driving range, horseshoe pits and a large area of turf.

A 2,000-foot clubhouse in the park was donated by the McKeon Corporation as part of an annexation agreement when the St. Francis Heights section came into Daly City.

Adjacent to the clubhouse is a tot lot with a set of playground equipment unique to the city.

Wilfred O'Rourke, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission, and a representative of the high school district also are scheduled to speak at the ceremony.

The Rev. Clark Robb, pastor of Seaciff Community Church, and the Rev. T. J. Farrell of Holy Angel Catholic Church will give the opening prayer and benediction, respectively.

Winners in Easter Egg Hunt Listed

Hundreds of Daly City youngsters scrambled through parks and playground areas, Saturday, in the city's annual Easter egg hunt, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

Eggs were redeemable for Easter baskets. Here are the winners:

HOUSE DAMAGED

John Pleskach of 494 Oriente Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had rolled boulders down a hill behind his house, damaging the structure.

Doelger Firms, State Agree on $2.3 Million

Corporations owned by Developer Henry Doelger have been awarded $2.3 million for a freeway interchange on a 13-acre site the firms own at Junipero

Serra and Alemany Boulevards. An uncontested judgment for the amount was made last week in Redwood City by Superior Judge Edmund Scott.

The interchange will serve the junction of Alemany and the Junipero Serra and Southern freeways.

A condemnation trial was scheduled to have begun in Judge Scott's court March 23 but was postponed a week when attorneys for Doelger and the state indicated a compromise figure probably could be reached.

When the $2.3 million figure was reported to the court, Judge Scott entered judgment for that amount.

Included is interest from last September 1, the date the state took over the property.

Crews subsequently worked throughout the weekend to repair the rupture.

According to laws governing emergencies of this type, if the district is given an affirmative ruling in the state of emergency, trustees may have work on the installation of a new overhead system of pipes begun at once.

The job would be let on a time and materials contract with a clause guaranteeing a maximum cost.

Should the county fail to confirm the emergency, the job would have to be put out to bid and work could not begin until some time in June.

Westmoor has been losing hot water at the rate of about four gallons a minute in recent weeks.

Jaycees Plan Safety Clinic

The Daly City-Colma Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a seat-belt clinic from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday in the parking lot of the Serra Bowl at Junipero Serra Boulevard and Eastmoor Avenue, according to Chairman William Whipple.

Belts will be sold and installed at a reasonable cost, Whipple said.

STILL WEARING their number "24" buttons indicating the date of the College of San Mateo victorious bond election, (which many people thought was a Willie Mays Booster Club) officials of the campaign took this stance last week at the college to demonstrate how they hit the ball out of the park with a landslide 3 to 1 victory. Dr. Julio Bortolazzo swings the bat, while Daniel E. Koshland, chairman of the countywide Citizens' Committee acts as catcher; Mrs. Emory L. Campus Work Will Begin

"The expansion of the College Heights Campus from its present 6,500-student capacity to accommodate 8,000 students by 1965 must begin at once," Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, president of the College of San Mateo, declared last week.

He added that detailed studies and plans for the new North County campus would follow selection of architects.

A 3-1 MARGIN

Voters Approve CSM Bond Issue

College of San Mateo's $12.8-million bond issue was overwhelmingly approved by residents of the junior college district last week.

In balloting that saw a 25 per cent turnout of eligible voters, considered high for a school bond election, the bond issue gained the approval of three-fourths of those who cast ballots — easily bettering a two-thirds majority required by law.

Voters in the Laguna Salada School District approved the CSM measure by a seven to one margin — one of the heaviest "yes" votes in the county.

Voters in the Jefferson Elementary School District rolled up a 2-1 margin in favor of the bond issue. The district tally was 2,116 "yes" and 1,005 "no."

Bayshore voters, however, rejected the proposal. The total was 122 "yes" and "79" no. A total of 134 "yes" votes were needed to pass the bonds.

Proceeds of the bond issue will provide a new college campus in the Pacific Heights section of San Bruno, which will serve the North County. They also will finance a second new campus in the hills of Woodside, which will serve the southern part of the county.

Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, president of CSM, jubilantly thanked voters for their "resounding approval of our program." He declared:

"The result means an immediate push in all phases of development of additional (CSM) facilities."

Dr. Bortolazzo calculated the "yes" vote total as 74.9 per cent. It would have taken a 67 per cent "yes" vote to carry

CSM Okays Low Bids for Expansion

College of San Mateo trustees acted swiftly last week to implement the $12,800,000 expansion program endorsed overwhelmingly by the county's voters Tuesday.

The board accepted a low bid of Courtney and Cole Company of Mountain View for construction of an academic office building for 100 teachers at the College Heights campus. Low bid was for $282,900.

the bond election, he said. Meanwhile, Dan Koshland, head of a citizens' committee for the bond campaign, paid warm tribute to The Post-Times for "magnificent news coverage and editorial support."

"It was an informed electorate that approved the bond issue," he asserted.

In addition to Bayshore, only two other districts in the county turned down the bonds—Brisbane and Woodside.

WE GOT TO WONDERING, the other day, about just how superior Dodger pitching superiority is.

You may interpret the following in any way you wish. For what it's worth, here's what we discovered:

The Dodgers have only three pitchers on their roster (Drysdale, Koufax and Podres) who have ever pitched as many as 200 innings in the majors in a season (no one else, not even Bob Miller, has ever come close), which must be considered a minimum figure for any starting pitcher—particularly in the new 162-game schedule.

These three pitchers, hurling for a winning team, have averaged—for seasons in which they have pitched the 200—17.5 wins per season with an earned run average of 3.14.

The Giants, whose pitching is a question mark, have four pitchers who have thrown 200 or more innings (Sanford, Marichal, O'Dell and Shaw), and they have aggregate averages of 16.5 wins and a 3.17 ERA.

Bearing in mind that both O'Dell (with Baltimore) and Shaw (with Milwaukee) pitched for losing teams before coming to the Giants, not to mention Sanford's earlier career with perennial last place (at the time) Philadelphia, one begins to see how, occasionally, myths based on emotion and not fact can grow.

NOW THAT Felipe Alou, the unbuntable, is gone, what will we have to write about this coming season should Cookie Lavagetto somehow teach Orlando Cepeda to run the bases properly?

WE SEE Frank Bertania, Sacred Heart's prep pitching sensation of a few years ago, is on the Oriole roster and doing well in exhibition games.

This causes us a heavy sigh of relief, because we've been suffering conscience pangs over Bertania ever since the spring of 1961.

It was at that time that we helped to promote a game.

Bertania, at the time, was the hottest pitching prospect to hit the Bay Area since Jefferson's Eddie Cerejino, was pulling down a huge bonus from the Yanks a decade before.

Naturally, we lined Frank up to be the West Bay starter, moving quick before he signed that $100,000—or more—bonus everyone was saying he would get.

And then we lined the game up for Candlestick Park and waited for the spectacular to unfold.

What unfolded was probably the windiest day windswept Candlestick ever endured.

Bertania, no lightweight, was literally blown off the mound at one point as the game nearly turned into a farce with high school kids, inexperienced in performing in the teeth of gales, fell over each other chasing fly balls.

Frank, normally a control pitcher, walked eight batters in five innings. He was eventually declared the winner in the 11-9 contest, miraculously allowing only three hits and a run during his five-inning stint and getting a couple of hits in the bargain.

But we've never convinced ourselves that we did not somehow have something to do with damaging Frank's hundred thousand image in front of those dozens of scouts that day.

Really, you just don't go around giving hundred thousands to guys who fall off the mound, throw pitches over their catcher's head and wear their hat crooked for most of the game—even if the wind did probably cause it all.

Bertania ended up getting a reported $50,000 to $60,000, certainly nothing to cringe from. But as we said, it was enough to make us feel a little bit responsible.

Terry Christman, incidentally, now a hitting and pitching star at San Francisco State, also performed in that game, representing Westmoor. Terry, normally a fist baseman, played left field that day.

Oh, there's a sub-plot kicking around in this story, too. A boy named Jerry Ard, who played shortstop for the West that day representing Drake High, was voted "Most Valuable Player" as he was one of the few who played a flawless defensive game and was also in the middle of a couple of big rallies with important hits.

We mention this because Ard signed a big league contract, just a couple of months ago for a fair-sized bonus. And although we don't take credit for it because of our game, we're kind of proud that at least we didn't ruin the kid.

COUPLE OF WEEKS AGO, we wrote how our wife had admired Joe Dimaggio's handsome countenance one evening at the Clipper's Restaurant at Fisherman's Wharf.

It seems, we have since learned from our mother-in-law, that Joe is just as handsome in the late afternoon hours.

She sees Joe every Sunday at the 5:30 p.m. mass at St. Brigid's on Van Ness Avenue.

And, declares this writer's mother-in-law, who also attended Galileo High with Joe, "He gets better looking with age."

Oh, it's terrible not to be a hero in one's own family.

MARTY COIL, Terra Nova's determined second team All-NPL selection, had quite an individual season.

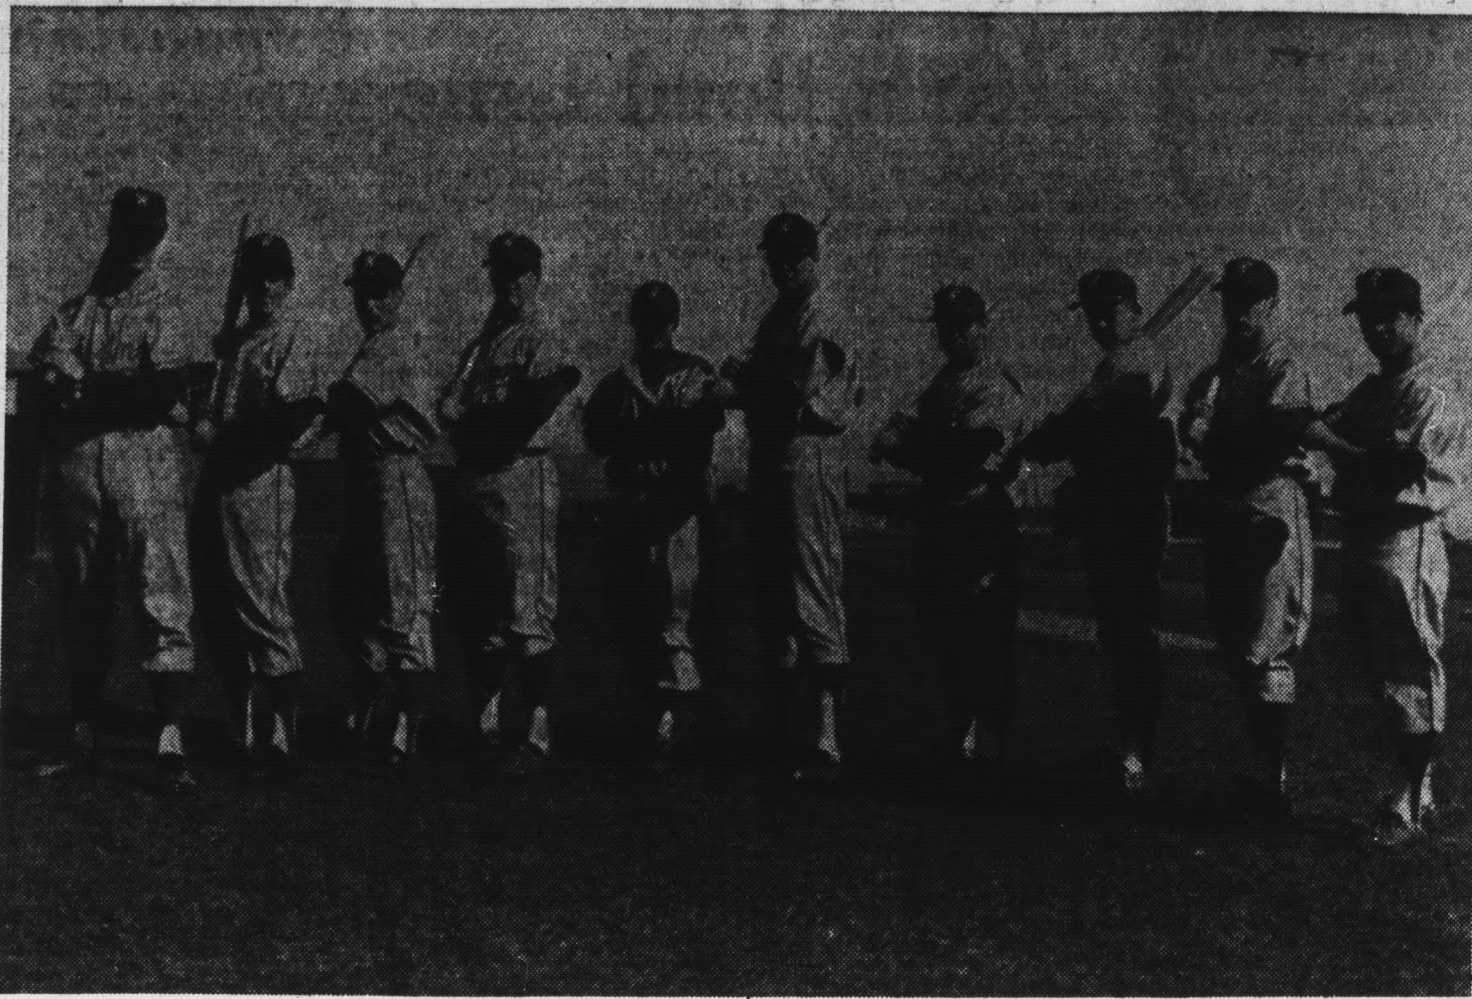

He tied three Tiger rebounding records (two of which he shares with teammate Rich Schafer), and completely busted two others. All previous records had been held by Manuel Pick, former NPL all-leaguer, who's been considered to be perhaps the greatest athlete ever to hit Terra Nova.

But Coil, who's lettered in football, baseball and basketball and who's made second squad All-NPL in all three sports, may cause some re-evaluation in the immediate future.

THEY TOLD us UCLA was quick and clever and the Bruins proved it to us against Duke when they cajoled a Duke player into tipping a basket in for them during the championship final.

Now, you just don't get any cleverer than that.

Rams' 1964 Starting Lineup

T. J. Delbex, Dan Payette, and Al Contreras. Ram coach Rod Losberger says the key to Westmoor's title hopes this year will be pitching.

Pitching Is the Key

By RON BATES

THE EXPECTED RECOVERY of two injured all-league players and some come-through performances by the pitching staff may give the Westmoor Rams the added push that could send them to the top of the North Peninsula League baseball standings this season.

The injured players are seniors Bruce Hix and Al Contreras.

Hix injured his wrist and shoulder while quarterbacking Westmoor to its second consecutive football title last fall.

The injury has been evident in the practice games, Coach Red Losberger said. Hix has been favoring the arm slightly.

Contreras broke his hand two weeks after the baseball practice season began, Losberger said. The cast was taken off during Easter vacation and it will be weeks before he will be able to throw the ball.

HIX, WHO HAS BEEN watched closely by several major league baseball scouts, was edged out of the batting crown by Warrior Neil McNevin last season despite a .517 average.

He is beginning to show signs of recovery though, Losberger said. He got the Rams' only hit off a tough Riordan team in a practice game this year.

Contreras hit .333 while contributing strongly to the Rams' defensive effort at the second baseman's slot. While Contreras is recovering from his injury, the versatile Hix has been holding down the position.

Losberger said that pitching will probably be his biggest problem.

"If it comes through, we'll hold our own," he said, "but it's thin now."

RETURNING to the staff will be big Dave Williams, one of Losberger's main starters last year. Williams, who has played three years of varsity ball, should show progress, Losberger said.

T. J. Delbex, a combination pitcher-first baseman-outfielder up from the frosh-soph also will be counted on for pitching chores by Losberger. Delbex looked good against Serra High School but pulled a groin muscle that may hamper him.

Both Williams and Delbex are lefthanders. Losberger's righthander may be John Dorris, a transfer student originally bound for Jefferson. Dorris' family, however, moved into the Westmoor district over the winter holidays. Joaquin Andrade, up from the frosh-soph, will also see action as a pitcher.

Main relief duty will be shouldered by Randy Baumgardner, an all-league lightweight pitcher last year.

LOSBERGER is carrying a squad of 22 men, the largest ever since he has been coach at Westmoor. The roster includes eight veterans.

"We have at least two men for every position," he said.

One position that may present problems is at shortstop where Veteran Dan Payette is situated, Losberger said. If he develops as expected, though, "we'll be okay."

Payette is being backed up by Bill Waite, up from the lightweights. Waite, a potential hitter, walloped a homer against Aragon.

Losberger likes a set infield and the injury to Contreras has prevented the team from jelling as expected.

With Hix subbing for Contreras at second, Bill Nacca, last year's utility infielder, has been holding down Hix's job at third and doing "quite well," the coach observed.

At first base, Delbex has been getting the call. Losberger said he is the best first baseman at Westmoor since Terry Christman and Barry Krohn.

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE CITY AUDITOR?

For three decades that I know of, there has been a city auditor. His duty is to advise the Council from time to time, on the financial status of the city. He submitted a quarterly report to the council. Now there is only a yearly audit made by Public Accountants, Ethel and Belotz, of 375 South Mayfair. For this annual report the city pays $1,800.00. For the year round auditor the salary was $2,400.00. Whose brainstorm was this?

DALY CITY LEAGUES

Dons Near Title; Playboys in First

Here is a rundown of action in basketball leagues sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department:

The OLP Arrows wrapped up second place in the Fifth Grade Long Division with a 21-12 victory over the PAL Rams. Tim Denning led the victors with eight points.

The Arrows' only loss of the season was to the OLM Bears, who won the division title.

The PAL Tigers clinched third place with a forfeit win over the BYA Rambles. The PAL Pirates, meanwhile wrapped up fourth place with an 18-11 win over the PAL Cougars.

In other games, the OLM Indians downed their stablemates, the OLM Spartans in overtime. In the Sixth Grade, the OLM Dons picked up a forfeit win over the OLP Golds and need only a victory over the OLM Broncos to win the title.

The PAL Eagles, meanwhile, overwhelmed the OLM Gaels, 80-7. Fred Balletto tallied 21 for the winners.

The PAL Thunderbolts walloped the PAL Royals, 62-20. Cliff Wong and Ralph LaMar hit 20 points each. The Holy Angel Colts nipped the OLM

Broncos, 25-22. Mike Dryden had 12 points for the Colts. In other action, the PAL Bullets edged the PAL Falcons, 24-20. Ralph Cage led the Bullets with eight points.

In the Seventh Grade, the PAL Celtics ran past the Holy Angel Padres, 44-21. Steve Powell came up with 22 points for the winners.

The PAL Vikings squeaked by the Bender Roofing Cats, 33-31. Garry Gradells and Steve Kirby led the way with 13 points each.

In Eighth Grade play, the BYA Daly City Drug Playboys moved into first with a 37-25 win over the OLM Cubs. Vic Verby was high for the Playboys with 11 points.

The PAL Bears eked out a win over the Holy Angel Warriors as Alan Olcese tanked 17 points. Phil Cheverellera had 14 for the losers.

RETAIN COUNCILMAN AL POLONSKY

Daly City Council

"Make the man selected for the job, elected to the job"

BECAUSE HE IS QUALIFIED

The Daly City Council appointed Al Polonsky to fill former Mayor Joe Verducci's unexpired term because it felt he was exceptionally well qualified. Making it clear that Councilman Polonsky's appointment was a unanimous council action, Councilman and former Mayor Edward Dennis said, "Al Polonsky did not seek the job. The job sought him." No greater compliment could be paid a Daly City citizen.

BECAUSE HE IS WELL TRAINED

His experience as chairman and member of the Daly City Personnel Board made councilman Polonsky well acquainted with the intricacies of our city's government as well as the needs and problems of the community. Thus, when he was sworn in as councilman, he was able to quickly accept his new responsibilities and become an active, effective, working councilman. He accepted his council appointment with "no strings attached." His only commitment: To serve Daly City and its people to the best of his ability.

BECAUSE HE STANDS FOR SOUND GOVERNMENT

Councilman Polonsky reflects the desires of the taxpayer. He is a firm believer in policies of sound, pay-as-you-go financial planning and efficiency in government. And, while he has indicated his support of the city administration and department heads, he has pledged a continuing effort to bring greater economy to city operations without sacrificing the effectiveness of those services so important to the people of Daly City.

BECAUSE HE KNOWS DALY CITY AND ITS PEOPLE

Because of his 12-year residency in Daly City Councilman Polonsky is familiar with its problems and its citizens' desires. He recognizes our community's challenge and growth opportunities. A successful practicing lawyer, Councilman Polonsky is highly capable of handling city affairs. His knowledge and training are of great value in the important and sometimes complex issues that come before the Council.

Because he's the man for the job!

AL STAGNARO and Bob Hansen took second place in the Class A Doubles Division as the unofficial scores of the Annual San Francisco City Association Tournament were published. They are members of the league-leading Sai-Wu team of the Westlake Classic.

Dick Birkett and Jack Glass, Sr. put on a running battle in the 815 Scratch League Monday night as their Schilling Spices and Floor Styles teams competed. Birkett finished with 224-621 while Glass registered a 604 series on a high game of 213.

Emily Drago and Helen Henry were the week's leaders in the Starlites League as Emily rolled a 214 game and 537 series and Helen shot 187 and 522.

Mel Steinberg's 248 game and 613 series topped the B'nai B'rith League for the week.

With 85 entries the first week, the Third Annual Gold Coast Classic is off at a record-breaking pace. Open to both men and women, there are two divisions, 165 and over and 164 and under. Bowlers may compete anytime lanes are available. First week leaders were Joe Brown with 669 in the upper division and Charles Diaz with 608 in the lower division.

It's Spring-Summer League sign-up time at Westlake as once again sign-ups are being taken for a wide variety of leagues for men and women, boys and girls, advanced and beginners.

In the Blue Monday Scratch League Dom Passaglia set the pace with a 218 game and 604 series.

Canco bowler of the week was Art Prater with a big 230 game and 602 series.

Hank Joost, with a 193 game and 542 series led the Golden Gate Handicap League with 193 and 542.

Joe Maurine finished his third game with three open frames which kept him from setting a new Westlake high series record, but nevertheless ended with a tremendous 711 total on games of 246-253 and 212. He became one of the few members of the very select Westlake 700 club.

Summer league team captains will have an opportunity to compete for $500.00 in prizes in the Westlake Team Captains and Secretaries Tournament next month. The only cost will be cost of bowling three games, with the prize fund being added by the Westlake Bowl management in appreciation to captains of team bowling in the Westlake summer leagues.

Serra Bowl

WELL HERE we are again — with the past week's events at Serra Bowl.

Current leader for the men in the City of Hope Tournament is Dick Evert with 710 and in the women's division Celi Guaracci 649. The V.I.P.'s report Robert Petschul with 215-540, Carol Fahey 205-562 for the Mets, Dave DeVita 212 and Jack Stout 554 for the Gringos, Art Michael 214-576 in the 813 scratch and Gene Coburn 233-599 for the Lions.

Virginia Natmeyer had her eyes open in the Morning Glories for a nice 189 and Marge Sundahl 483, Lois Miller 189 and Holly Harais 499 for the Friettes and Judy Maasberg 182-459 for the Femme Fatales. Dick Evert in the Twilighters rapped out games of 222-174-230 for 626 (157 average bowler) and in the Boozers it was Bill Huelsonk 215-570.

Jeffrey Thomson rolled 205-231-194-630 for the Nightowls in a really fine performance. Steve Rouai hit 235-524 for the Lutheran. Chris Bendotti had a 203-537 grinding in the Coffee Clatch set, Hazel White 164 and Eleanor Bizzo 436 for the Feather Dusters. In the Rockettes Violet Campbell 173 and Marie Pascucci 431, and Barbara Stewart 181 and Barbara Shulman 461 for the Bowling Bags.

The 835 Scratch had a trio of slammers with George Chapman 210-609, Cornell Gatewood 209-246-640 and Frank Mazzella 244-607. Don Ricafort had 206-556 in the B & G and Butch Carr (very appropriate for the Automotive League) with 202-570. The Domestic Engineers had Bea Lagomarsino 197 and Jackie Madden 517, Clara Salan 174 and Helen Kennedy 479 for the Serra Starters and in the Budget Busters Audrey Ehlers 182 and Betty Weissman 472.

The Bankers had Jack Quinn depositing 223-599, and it was Ray Kraus 211-560 for the Sharpshooters. Len Figueroa 222-600 in the Gigolos, Ken Harris 224-547 for the Foresters, and Byron Beckes 213-579 for the Astronauts. In the Parkmerced Pete Casias 213-555, Herb Cuevas 225-608 for the Rovers and Bob Magliano 191-553 for the Cardinals.

Pete Ackenheld's 215-545 was tops for the St. Francis, in the Portola Dads Jack Tringale had high game with 206 and Al Bertongin took high series with 518. Don James led the Fort Funston group with 195-540.

St. Patrick's day was okay as far as the Junipero Serra Apartments are concerned. Bowling in the Nightowls they shot a 2606 scratch.

Sea Bowl

THIS WEEKEND is King and Queen of the Month roll-off once again. Those who qualify will be receiving letters. Hurry, hurry, sign up your teams for Pacifica's second annual championship tournament. All events will be handicapped two-thirds of 200 for both men and women.

Summer sign-ups are now being taken for women's day leagues, mixed night, and men's and women's leagues for night bowling.

Sam Fox of the Sea Breeze League rolled a big 236-646 for both top honors. On the Thursday Ladies Scratch, Miriam Pecota had a nice 210 game and 547 series. 870 Classic: Buck Buckley shot a great big 232 game, which put him in top spot for the high game.

Kings and Queens: Dean Fuller rolled a nice 220 for the high game credits and Pete Thomas had a 194-569 for the high series. Joe Klobucar of the Belles and Beans had a nice 223 for the high game of the league and Bob Miller had the high series of 197-567. Les Danner and Mario Victor shared top honors with Les bowling the high series of 222-559 and Mario the big game of 233.

MONDAY YAWNERS: Three girls really coming up in the bowling scores: Janine Freylach had a big 189 game; Edith Salerno, who holds a 97 average, rolled a 161, and Hazel Roussel, who has an average of 107, had a nice 172 game. Lenore Lewis had the high series of 178-467. Biggest game of the week was rolled by Emil Hill on the Tavern League last Monday. Emil bowled a 253-587.

On the Alleyholics League, Dolores Batts bowled a nice series as follows: 190-198-142-530. Mermaids: Fern Burvoy bowled her biggest game since she started bowling. She had a nice 201 for the top game of the day, and Betty Buck had the high series of 180-465.

Host Warriors Take 3rd Place

Sacred Heart Wins Easter Tourney Title

The host South San Francisco Warriors had to settle for a third place finish in the annual South San Francisco Easter Baseball Tournament last week.

Sacred Heart of San Francisco downed Balboa, also of San Francisco, 4-3, in the tournament's championship game Saturday.

South San Francisco's Jeff Jones hurled his mates to the third place finish by allowing only six hits in a 10-5 win over Capuchino.

The Mustangs from San Bruno paved the way to their own demise with eight big errors.

The Warriors wrapped up the game in the second inning when they tallied eight times.

All-tournament selections included three Warriors and one El Camino player.

Warriors named were: Jones, pitching; Greg Jones, second base; and Sam Pretari, shortstop. The El Camino player named was Dennis Davis, first base.

The championship game was marked by a triple play, executed by Sacred Heart in the fourth inning. The play killed a Balboa rally.

In the tournament's opener, the Warriors downed the Colts 4-1 behind the two-hit pitching of Jeff Jones.

In the second round, South San Francisco was eliminated from title contention by Balboa, bowing 6-2. The Warriors committed four errors that led to four unearned Balboa runs.

In third round action, El Camino gained the consolation finals with a 6-0 win over Richmond. Arnie Andreacchi blanked the East Bay nine on only four hits.

In the fourth round, the Colts nailed down fifth place in the tourney with a 2-1 victory over St. Ignatius. Mike Avelar gave up five hits.

LARRY SYLVESTRI of the South San Francisco Warriors slides safely into third base during the consolidation championship game of the Easter Baseball Tournament in South San Francisco Saturday. Waiting for the throw is Capuchino's third baseman, Wayne Smith. The Warriors downed the Mustangs, 10-5, to take the consolidation title. (Post-Times Photo)

CSM Spikes Fail in Bid

College of San Mateo's track team failed last week in a valiant try to overpower Oakland City College for the Golden Gate Conference relay championship.

But after the meet was over, CSM athletes and fans discovered that there was still much to cheer about.

The Bulldogs came up five points short in the relay meet that was strictly a two-team battle from start to finish. Oakland lived up to its favorite role with a winning total of 86 points to 81 for the Bulldogs.

CSM and Oakland won all but three of the 15 events during the day and had seven second places between them. On the bright side for Coach Berny Wagner, however, was another outstanding performance by CSM's Ted Winfield, who achieved another lifetime and San Mateo best mark with a 6-9 leap in the high jump relay, one of five first places scored by the Mateans during the afternoon competition.

PeeWee Tryouts Are Scheduled

The Daly City Police Athletic League will hold baseball tryouts for its Pee Wee leagues Saturday at 10:30 a.m. at Colma School's Trojan Field, according to league president Richard Brewer.

To be eligible to play, a boy must be between the ages of 7 and 11 and not be higher than the fifth grade in school. Gloves must be supplied by the player, Brewer said.

A DELATED REPORT OF THE CITY

A full two page spread came out in last week's edition of the "Post", by the Mayor. In a small box, was a financial statement of the city. With all this fanfare, words, and space, no breakdown of departmental expenditures was given. The city's fiscal year ended June 30, 1963, so your guess is as good as mine, as to why this came out at this late time.

TROPHY TUG-OF-WAR Pacifica Police Take Second Round

"A battle may be lost but the war isn't won." This was the rallying cry last week of members of the Pacifica police department. Members of the fire department, who claim they should have an inter-department trophy after members of the police department failed to show up for a football game in April, sneaked into police department headquarters and made away with the prize. "Foul!" yelled members of the police department. Wednesday morning, however they claimed the second victory. Hanging proudly in the office of Police Chief Neil Tremaine was a golden, six-foot long banner. In bold red letters were inscribed, "Pacifica Fire Dept." On each side was an insignia of two fire department crossed trumpets and a fireman's helmet. The banner had been taken from fire department headquarters. Pinned to the banner was a tag reading, "Compliments of the swing shift." Police officers said they have given up, however, calling the fire department at 3 or 4 each morning. Members of both departments agreed on one thing. This year's football game Sunday "will be a massacre."

PANNING FOR GOLD will be demonstrated at the Home Mutual Savings and Loan Association offices in the Westlake Shopping Center by gold panning expert Rick Smith, right. Previewing the demonstration, which begins tomorrow at the banking office at 5 Southgate Avenue is Milton

M. Krings, Home Mutual vice president. Tours are planned for school children and the educational exhibit will be open to the public from noon to 4 p.m. on weekdays. Each gold panner collects a small vial of real gold for his efforts. The exhibit will close April 10.

Scout Dinner Scheduled

The annual appreciation dinner of the Lake Merced District, Boy Scouts of America, will be held at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday, April 14, in the cafeteria of Westmoor High School.

Dinner chairman is Edward D. Morgan. Reservations should be made no later than Friday, April 10.

The dinner will be highlighted by training awards, special recognition to outstanding scout leaders and an award to the sponsoring institution having the largest total of Scouters, parents and friends at the dinner. Each Scouting unit will decorate its own table.

A slate of proposed officers for 1964-65 will be presented by the district's nominating committee.

Safety Award Given Fireman

Fireman Patrick Cuneen was the winner of the March safety award, presented by the Daly City Safety Committee.

Cuneen suggested that the edges overhanging ladders on fire trucks be painted with a fluorescent paint to prevent persons from walking into them at night.

Fire Damage Totals $1600

Fire has caused an estimated $1,600 damage to a three-story house at 9 Shakespeare Street, Daly City. The house is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Masangay and their family.

Daly City firefighters said the fire started in an upstairs bedroom, apparently from a discarded cigarette. The flames partly burned a wall and a floor.

The third floor was extensively damaged by soot and smoke, firefighters said. Battalion Chief Mel Hansen estimated damage at $1,200 to the building and $400 to the contents.

Art Exhibit in S.S.F. Library

Patrons of the South San Francisco Library, will once again view local artist Paul West's paintings of California scenes. Easily recognized are scenes of state parks and California rivers.

Born in Denmark, West came to this country over 30 years ago. He attended University of California at Davis, studying landscaping. He is employed by the Parks Department in Burlingame.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

EVERYONE loves a tossed green salad and we are always on the lookout for a new salad dressing. Mrs. Grace Scoble, 2539 Irving Street, San Francisco, gave me this recipe and it surely is a joy. As you can see, it is simple to make and makes a large amount of dressing — and it tastes delicious.

GRACE'S SALAD DRESSING

- 1 can tomato soup
 - 1 cup oil
 - 1 cup vinegar
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - Pepper
 - 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
 - Paprika
 - 3 or 4 garlic buds
- Combine all ingredients and shake well. Store in refrigerator.

AS YOU can well imagine, wherever I go and whatever I am doing, somehow the conversation usually gets around to recipes. At a bridge party recently, my friend Mrs. Laverne Whitecar who resides at 75 Rollingwood Drive, San Rafael told me about this dish that really adds glamour to the left-over roast beef. Naturally I asked her to send me the recipe so I could try it and share it with my readers.

PEKING BEEF

- 2 cups cooked roast beef, cut into slivers
- 3 tablespoons salad oil
- 3 cups, cauliflower, separated into flowerets (1 medium sized head)
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 cup undiluted condensed consommé
- 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
- 1 package frozen peas
- Salt

Heat salad oil in skillet. Add cauliflower and saute over medium heat, turning constantly with a spatula, for 3 minutes. Do not brown. Turn heat low, add water and cover. Steam 2 or 3 minutes, or until the cauliflower is as tender as desired. Mix together consommé, cornstarch, soy sauce, lemon juice and onion; stir well until blended and pour over cauliflower. Add beef, peas and salt to taste (about 1 teaspoon). Cook over medium heat turning constantly with a spatula, until mixture is steaming hot and sauce is thickened. Serve over hot cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

LAVERNE used to live in Westlake and has always been generous in sharing her recipes. This cherry cake is one she gave me a couple of years ago and I have made and served it often, and it is always a big hit.

CHERRY CAKE

- 1 pkg. white cake mix
 - 1 can cherry pie filling
 - 1 1/2 cups whipped cream
 - 1-3 cup sifted powdered sugar
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
- Mix and bake according to directions on box, making 2 8-inch layers. Cool.

Whip cream, add sugar and vanilla.

Meantime, place cherry pie filling in a collar to drain off some of the juice (this is very important, for you don't want the cherries to be too loose). First the top of the bottom layer with whipped cream, spoon the juice that has drained off the cherries on top of cream. Then carefully place top layer on and frost whole cake with the whipped cream. Form a ridge around the edge of the top of the cake with whipped cream and pour the drained cherries on top of cake. Refrigerate for a couple of hours.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES JENNINGS (Doug Mack Photo)

Militza Shkapsky Weds

Militza Shkapsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Shkapsky of 1255 Alicante Drive, Pacifica, and James Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Coil of 73 Parma Street, Daly City, were married in Holy Trinity Cathedral in San Francisco.

The bride attended Washington High School and the College of San Mateo.

A reception was held after the wedding at Simpson's in San Francisco. The couple honeymooned in Carmel and are now living in Daly City.

Bike Safety

Program Set

A bicycle registration and bicycle safety class will be sponsored by the Abraham Lincoln P-TA and the Daly City Police Department Saturday at the Seaside Community Church at 15 Northridge.

The program is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Michael Kerekes. It is designed to take care of the children in the area west of Skyline Boulevard.

Registration is fifty cents and is good for the life of the bicycle.

League Role

To Be Mull'd

Mrs. Clare Tierney will be discussion leader tomorrow night when the members of the Daly City unit of the League of Women Voters meet to consider the "Watch Dogs in High Heels."

All local women are invited to attend the meeting which will begin at 8 p.m. For additional information contact Mrs. Farber, PL 5-5059.

Champagne Preview Is Scheduled

The Golden Gate Kindergarten Association Auxiliary will again sponsor the champagne preview of the Third Annual Furniture Fashions Exposition, Friday, May 15, in Brooks Hall. "Round-the-World" furniture fashions will be featured.

Mrs. John M. Connolly, president, has appointed Mrs. William H. Cereske and Mrs. Henry Herz as co-chairmen of the event.

Hostesses who will assist them are Mrs. Carl H. Riesen, Mrs. Richard G. Rossi, Mrs. Marshall S. Sanders, Mrs. Murray H. Freedman, Mrs. Owen Kellogg, Mrs. George Bill, Mrs. John A. Gansloser, Mrs. Norman Wheeler, and Mrs. Mark Sullivan.

Tickets are three dollars and information may be obtained from Mrs. Richard Rossi at PL 6-9401.

Proceeds from the preview will benefit the Phoebe Hearst and Stanford Nursery schools.

Local firms participating in the show are: Westlake Maple, Richter's Furniture, Sterling Furniture, Decorat, Macy's, Beauti-Plat, Pacific Gas & Electric, Golden Gate Clock House, J. C. Penney, Pacific Telephone and Paramount Venetian Blind.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

APRIL has arrived and most localities are celebrating the reappearance of pink plum blossoms and elegant rhododendron blooms with those time hallowed traditions of spring, fashion shows, festivals and dinner dances.

The YWCA will initiate the month's activities with "Frolic and Frock," an elaborate combination of fashion, fun and food to be held in the Elks' Club in South San Francisco this Saturday night.

Mrs. Marsha McGuirk, Mrs. Pat Singer, Mrs. Lynette Erlach, Mrs. Norma Washfor, Mrs. Jean Williams, Mrs. Ann Johnson, Mrs. Gail Haggstrom, Mrs. Marie Ricetti, Mrs. Betty Elliott and Mrs. Glenda Morgan will be modeling the latest in spring apparel from the collection of The Fashion of Westlake. Scissor-Fritz will furnish the models each with either a new hairstyle or a stunning wig. Make-up will be done by Edith Chenborg.

The evening will begin at 7 p.m. with a no-host happy hour. Dinner, fashions and music will be provided from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m. According to Virginia Church, director of San Mateo County YWCA, a terrific combo has been signed and guests can expect a delightful variety of music for their dancing pleasure. For reservations call PL 6-7370.

APRIL 1, the Altar Society of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Pacifica, will hold a dance in the Pedro Point Firehouse and guests will enjoy dancing to the music of one of the finest orchestras in this area.

According to Mrs. Jeane Stone, publicity chairman, the evening's festivities will begin at 9 p.m. and continue to 1 a.m. with lots of prizes and a buffet supper in addition to the dancing.

Tickets, costing only $1.50 per person, may be obtained by calling Mrs. Ethel Forgie, 355-2501, Mrs. Marie Blackwell 355-5770 or Mrs. Stone, 355-3563.

MEMBERS of the festival committee, which will be responsible for the presentation of the Our Lady of Mercy "Roman Holiday" April 30, May 1, 2 and 3 has been named and the committeemen are now making final plans for the occasion, according to Mrs. Jack B. Rose.

General chairman of the festival group is Robert Fopplano. Mrs. Patricia Schofield and Frank Kelecha are the floor chairmen. Serving in an honorary capacity as chairman is the Rt. Rev. Richard W. Fowler. Other members of the committee include Mrs. Frank Burns, Richard Hoedt, Mrs. Rodney Hamblin, Neil Fahy, Mr. and Mrs. James Mosunich, Robert Hunter, Mrs. Donald McNab, Charles Webster, Mrs. Pat J. Tracy, Tenny Campbell, Mrs. Harold Thompson, Daniel McGill, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Box, Mrs. Rose, Darlo Baccicco, Ed Cuevas, Andres Skirro, John McAniff, George Bigon and Charles Blagdon.

THE MEMBERS of the Holy Angel's Women's Guild will be presenting a dinner dance on Saturday April 11, in the parish hall.

According to Mrs. Sue Sheerin, publicity chairman, guests will enjoy a sumptuous dinner followed by community singing and dancing.

Reservations are available to persons calling Mrs. James Sharpen, PL 5-9711 or Mrs. Raymond Fellman, PL 5-2127.

SOMETHING about spring and April showers makes people want to sing so even if you have no children in school, you are bound to enjoy a program to be presented this evening by the George Washington P-TA.

The Daly City Community Chorus will entertain with some of the most "toe tappin'" music you have heard in many a day. The chorus will sing several favorite selections from their repertoire of folk selections and will conclude with an hilarious bit of nonsense which is bound to please your ear as well as tickle your sense of humor.

Unfortunately, people hearing only the finished program will have missed half the fun, for chorus rehearsals, in addition to being very tuneful are jovial occasions attended by talented and congenial people. If you would like to become a part of this group, new members are enthusiastically received, according to Mrs. Patti Stolz, chorus director.

At present less than a dozen men are singing with the group and more are needed to balance the voices of the 27 ladies.

"We have two basses singing with us to provide the heavy, deep tones, but more tenors and baritone are urgently needed and we hope that any men in the area who would like to take part in choral work will get in touch with us," she said.

The chorus meets on Thursday evenings in the Westmoor Clubhouse from 8 p.m. until 10:30 p.m. and in addition to singing together the officers plan numerous fellowship programs for the chorus. Tonight's "Hootenanny" will be followed by a midnight supper in downtown San Francisco and plans are begun for an August picnic in Flood Park for members of the chorus and their families.

For more information, phone Mrs. Stolz, 589-6070.

AN EXCITING evening is planned for the members of the Catholic Daughters of America, Court St. Mary 1155, when they meet tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the parish hall of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.

Mrs. William Gonzales will announce the local winners of the C.D.A. creative poetry contest and Mrs. Fred Wettstein Jr. will present the proposed slate of officers for the coming year.

Members of the court are hoping that Mrs. Fred Wettstein Sr. and member of the court and the state regent will be well enough to attend the meeting. The senior Mrs. Wettstein has been hospitalized but is now recuperating.

The local court is preparing for an initiation of new members on April 16 and Mrs. Denning is anxious to contact all women interested in the C.D.A. prior to that time. She may be reached by calling WY 2-5360.

MUCH GAIETY surrounded the presentation of the prizes for Easter bonnets at the Westlake Senior Citizens meeting last Wednesday afternoon. All the hats were masterpieces and selection of winners very difficult.

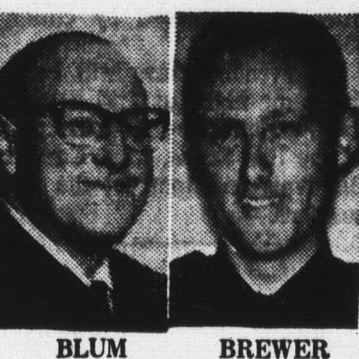

Walking off with the prizes were Mrs. Millie Mauchens in a fetching creation of pink organza and lush roses, Mrs. Emeline Wynn in a simple turban surmounted by several of the longest, stickiest peacock feathers; Mrs. Jessie Burton in a purple crown of tulip petals of mammoth proportions and Mrs. Wilma Getchell in a stunning Revere Ware pot topped with a menu card, and draped with silverware, tumbler and a corrot. Robert Celley took the men's award in a tam of rust colored felt offset by a cockade of aluminum shavings and ribbon.

BLUM BREWER

Jefferson P-TA Fetes Two Persons

Superior Court Judge Frank Blum and Daly City Police Officer Richard Brewer were honored by the Jefferson Elementary School P-TA by being awarded with honorary life memberships.

Blum and Brewer were surprised at the award. They had been asked to speak at the meeting.

Honorary life memberships are awarded to members of the community who have given outstanding service to the community. A $25 check is sent to the state P-TA organization in the name of each recipient to be placed in a revolving fund. Loans are made from this fund to assist students in various fields of education.

Blum's award came as a result of his work on the county level with juvenile delinquency. Brewer heads the city's Police Athletic League, which takes up most of his spare time.

Charter members and past presidents who were present included Mrs. Edward H. Dennis, Mrs. Irene Chessman, Mrs. George Bertucci, Mrs. Joseph Doyle and Mrs. M. J. Nofsinger.

Mrs. Eleanor Torrigino made the presentation. Speaker for the evening was Chief of Police Roland Petrocchi.

'Little Fashion Parade' Slated

"Little Fashion Parade" is the name of the children's fashion show to be presented by the Mater Dolorosa Women's Club, Saturday.

The show will be held at 2 p.m. in the Church Hall, and will present fashions from Woolf's Children's Shop and John's Men's and Boys' Shop. Reservations may be obtained from Mrs. Hector Illescas, 2490 Trenton Avenue, San Bruno, chairman, or from co-chairman, Mrs. George Engler, 378 Holly Avenue, South San Francisco.

SERVICE SUNDAY

Grace Chapel Is Dedicated

Grace Chapel Community Church located at 100 Los Banos Avenue, Daly City, will hold a dedication service of their new $100,000 edifice, Sunday, at 3 o'clock.

Local pastors from the Daly City Ministerial Association will participate with the Rev. Kenneth D. Hansen, chairman of the Daly City Ministerial Association, ministering the prayer of invocation.

Words of dedication will be given by Chaplain Harry Warwick of Soledad State Prison, Calif. The pastor of Grace Chapel, Rev. B. M. Thorness, will offer pastoral comments.

Main speaker is the Rev. Charles Weston, former pastor of Bethel Temple, San Francisco, who will give the dedicatory message, followed by the dedicatory prayer by Rev. Floyd Thomas of Glad Tidings Tabernacle, San Francisco, presbyter of the West Bay Area Section of the Assemblies of God.

Music will be furnished by organist Ron Fuller, accompanying Mrs. Evelyn Thorness, soloist, and Mr. and Mrs. G. Sordeno, vocal duet. The Bethel Temple 50-member choir will participate under the direction of Dr. Weaver.

Westlake Men's Club Hold Meet

Plans for the Parish Festival at Our Lady of Mercy Church will be discussed at a meeting Tuesday of the Westlake Catholic Men's Club at 8:15 p.m. in the parish hall.

The festival, according to President Richard Hoedt, will be held from April 30 to May 3. Proceeds will be given to the parish building fund.

The Men's Club will participate in its monthly Communion mass at 8 a.m. on Sunday, April 12.

The first post-Lenten social event of the club will be held this month at Roberts-at-the-Beach. Theme of the evening will be "Swing Into Spring," according to Chairman Howie Poblitz. Music will be provided by the Al Borelli Band.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Poblitz at PL 6-6761, Rodney Page at PL 6-6906 or Barry Churton at PL 6-4322.

Service for Children Set

The Rev. Richard P. Fowler, vicar of St. Martin's Episcopal Church at 777 Southgate Avenue, Daly City, will conduct a special Children's Easter Service at 10 a.m. Sunday.

Lenten mite boxes will be received and a flower cross will be filled at this service.

Proceeds from the mite boxes represent a part of the 1964 missionary offering. "New Life for Them—Through You" is the theme of this year's missionary offering.

At 3 p.m. Saturday, April 11, mite boxes from all of the churches in the diocese will be presented at a special service in Grace Cathedral in San Francisco.

RE-ELECT COUNCILMAN

"FRANK"

PACELLI

Francis P. "Frank" Pacelli's record of 6½ years as mayor and councilman has demonstrated a combination of sound business leadership and an understanding of the needs and desires of the people of Daly City.

A RESPONSIBLE FAMILY MAN—

• Councilman Pacelli was the motivating force behind the establishment of Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City.

• In 1961 Councilman Pacelli was instrumental in planning and executing Daly City's Golden Anniversary Celebration.

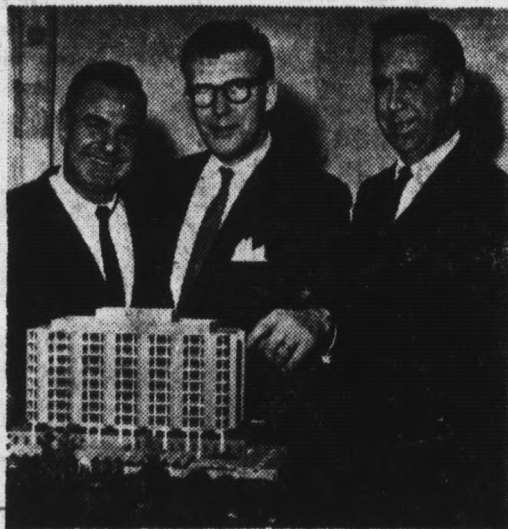

• Councilman Pacelli has supported a "pay-as-you-go" policy for Daly City, resulting in expansion of city services and facilities while a CONSTANT LOW TAX RATE OF $1.48 HAS BEEN MAINTAINED FOR THE PAST THREE YEARS!

• The influence of Councilman Pacelli has been significant in the establishment of a much-needed civic center for Daly City—without bonding.

• Recreational facilities and services for your youth have expanded greatly under the guidance of Councilman Pacelli, chairman of the Daly City Youth Committee.

• Vital city services, such as the police and fire departments, have been enlarged due to the far-sighted efforts of Councilman Pacelli and his council colleagues.

• Daly City's transportation needs are being met through the efforts of the city's transportation committee, co-chaired by Councilman Pacelli.

Teenager Asks...

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 17 years old and my boy friend and I want to get married. My parents say I'm too young and they forbid it. They say if we run away they will annul the marriage.

We are in love. One of my friends suggested that if I became pregnant they would make us get married. This may be the answer unless you can suggest some other way.

A Girl

Dear Girl:

Boy, do you have friends. Your friend, as you call her, needs her head and mouth checked. Anybody who would tell you to do that is not a friend. Getting pregnant is not the answer to any problem but, rather, the beginning of the worst kind.

It isn't all glamour to insult and humiliate your family and yourself, to say nothing of the humiliation of the child as he or she grows up. Your problem is not of love but in your choice of friends.

How much respect is your fu-

Beatles Appear In Daly City

Paul Catalana, operator of a chain of night clubs and drives in the San Jose area, announced last week that he has booked the Beatles for a one-night appearance at the Cow Palace on August 18, after they complete a summer tour of Europe.

He said they will also appear in the Hollywood Bowl, San Diego and Denver.

ture husband going to have for you after all this is over and you only have each other? Love is more than getting married. It is understanding and strength—strength to overcome problems such as you are faced with now.

This is only a test of your love for each other. If you are as in love with each other as you say, you can wait until you are of legal age, then get married.

If you can't wait, then you are not marrying for love but for other reasons—perhaps to get out of your parents' domination, for excitement, to have all your friends envy you or any number of reasons—none of which have anything to do with the reason you should be getting married such as love and respect for each other.

Grow up kids, before it's too late, and you do something that can never be undone or forgiven.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

My parents are always arguing and fighting. Then they ask me to take a side and when I do, the other one gets mad at me. I love both of them and I'm an only child and I don't want to be put in that position.

J. V.

This is not an uncommon problem. The problem is in your selfish parents. But there is little that can be done there. They have their own problems.

As for you, you can do one of two things: one, when there is a fight starting up, leave the house, go for a walk or go see a friend. Don't ask if you can, just do it.

If you ask, they'll say no because they want you to referee. Second: When there is no arguing going on and all is peaceful, tell them how you feel and how it makes you feel when they argue. Maybe it will hit home and wise them up.

Parents who argue can upset their children's emotional life as well as their school studies. It is something children should never be exposed to or made a part of.

Kids have enough problems just growing up without having to be burdened with their parents' problems.

So parents, if you must argue, do it in the privacy of your bedroom and don't make it a family project.

It is true that a family that does things together stays together. But let's not overdo it.

Teen-agers: If you have a question or topic you'd like me to discuss, you may write Joe Bavaresco, in care of this newspaper.

Ribbon Winner

A BLUE-RIBBON winner in this year's Grand National Junior Livestock Exposition at the Cow Palace was 12-year-old Gregg Soalri, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Soalri of 973 Hillside Boulevard, Colma. He gained the ribbon with a 78-pound, four-month-old lamb, which was auctioned off to a South San Francisco meat company for 35 cents a pound. Gregg is a member of the San Bruno 4-H Club. Last year, he won a second place in the grand Grand National. (Post-Times Photo)

New Teenage Club Planned

The Daly City Recreation Department is organizing a new senior high school teen-age club program to serve youths living in an area around Westmoor High School.

A committee of students from Westmoor has been appointed to work out details of the opening of the program in April.

The club will serve primarily high school boys and girls living west of Junipero Serra Boulevard in Daly City.

Tentative planning calls for the program to be inaugurated by a dance, featuring a top band.

Working on the program with recreation department members Phillip Scholl and Mrs. Michele Heiberg are Jeff Thomas, Sue Irby, Rich Esposto, Neil Black-

Shop Awards Given to Five

Five, instead of the usual single, "Man of the Month" awards in the Industrial Arts Department of Westmoor High School were given during the month of March.

Representing radio shop is Paul Galea, nominated by instructor Leslie Vogt. John Wallace was nominated by metal shop teacher Charles Medeiros; Terry Wolfer by woodshop instructor Dominic Polillo; Bill Tolbert by mechanical drawing teacher George Simon, and Mike Derickson by auto shop instructor George Chrestenson.

Ten Student Teachers at Westmoor

Ten students from San Francisco State College are student teaching this semester at Westmoor High School.

Of the ten, three are in the physical education department. Student Leonard Cohen teaches under Rodney Losberger and William Carr. John Stapp assists Anthony Giamona and Peter Matisi, and Howard Castleberry Jr. helps Bryon Van Alstyne and Verner Curtis.

In the girls physical education department, student Sue Pontier assists Barbara Bosio and Shirley Minaker.

Industrial Arts major Paul Rusanoff is doing his apprenticeship under instructor Lawrence Carlson in mechanical drawing and under Leslie Vogt in electric shop.

In the social science department two students are teaching. Joyce Legernas is assisting Evans Maionchi in U. S. history and Dexter Leland in civics. Leslie Olsen is assisting in Mrs. Rosemary Smith's psychology class and Paul Zimmerman's world history class.

Speech major Barbara Johns is teaching in Mary Ann Holden's public speaking class and in Lee Doyle's sophomore English class.

The Drive Against Cancer

ARMANDO SAMANIEGO
Named to Post

Production Manager for Paper Named

The appointment of Armando C. Samaniego as production manager of The Post-Times was announced today by General Manager Harold A. Schlottbauer.

Samaniego has been employed by Post-Times for 13 years and is presently the newspaper's Service Department manager. In making the announcement, Schlottbauer stated: "The continued growth of our newspaper dictates that we give special attention to the smooth production of our news and advertising products and to prepare for the growth which we expect in the immediate years to come."

Samaniego will be responsible for the mechanical production of The Times and Post and the coordination of those functions in all departments which affect the production of these newspapers.

Samaniego was born in Los Angeles in 1922. Prior to becoming associated with The Times and Post in 1951, he was employed in newspaper advertising production departments at the San Fernando Valley Times, Hollywood Citizen-News and the Seattle Times.

He saw service in the Air Force after graduating from high school in North Hollywood and attending Los Angeles City College.

Samaniego resides at 3823 Fernwood, San Mateo, with his wife, Susan, and daughter Pamela. He has been active for many years in youth work in his community.

Commissioner of Food and Drugs, and the repeated alerting of the public by the American Medical Association and Better Business Bureaus, health swindles keep appearing on the market in new disguises.

That it is not hard to convince a person yearning for youthfulness or that it is easy for a sick or worried person to believe in medical fakes is attested by a government report that over $500-million yearly is wasted on unnecessary or falsely represented vitamin products and so-called health foods.

At least $1 billion a year is spent on falsely promoted, worthless or dangerous products.

Dr. Frederick J. Stare, Harvard University nutrition expert, testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Frauds and the Elderly — deploring "misleading" diet books, which he said contained information that "won't do the readers a damn bit of good."

Recently, sea water has become a popular fad. "With the possible exception of iodine, the same mineral elements are present in common foods and abundantly supplied by the ordinary diet," Dr. Stare testified.

MODERN QUACKERY is very widespread. The advertising for "sure" cures for practically every ailment affecting the human race is found in pulp magazines and promoted by some faith healing cults.

The advertising is cleverly pointed to appeal to the vanity of the reader. The eternal search for youth has made elderly people the prime targets for the peddling of sex aids and potency pills.

Hucksters bilking the elderly have sold aphrodisiac pills to men and bust developing devices to women.

Quackery is prominent in the best selling diet books and health magazines, as well as in advertising for many kinds of special dietary foods, vitamin products, "miracle" cosmetics, drugs and gadgets for treating everything from excess fat to cancer.

There have been widespread and flagrant depredations against the elderly in the fake cancer cures. Worse than the financial loss is the danger that reliance on an ineffective product may make it too late to get proper medical treatment.

HOW CAN one tell whether a remedy is a fake or a genuine ray of hope?

1. IF IT is a secret remedy, you can almost be sure that it is a fake.

2. ONE OF the surest signs of quackery is when the sponsor of the new medicine claims he is battling the medical profession, which is trying to suppress his wonderful discovery.

Ready For Westlake Art Fair

MRS. PHYLLIS GERMAINE of San Francisco adds a few final touches to a painting she will exhibit in the Sixth Annual Westlake Art Fair, which will open a four-day run next Wednesday in the mall of the Westlake Shopping Center. She has won prizes in art fairs in Pacifica and in Santa Clara. More than 200 Northern California artists are expected to exhibit some 425 paintings. The fair will be open to all Bay Area artists. Information and entry blanks may be obtained at fair headquarters at Seymour's of Westlake in the shopping center. Prizes will be awarded in three age divisions: adult, 17 to 21 and 11 to 16.

New Pinsetters To Be Installed

Automatic pinsetting machinery that will return the first ball in only eight seconds will be installed at Westlake Bowl at a cost of almost $100,000, bowl owner Johnny Swanson has announced.

The installation will be carried out with no interruption in league play. The machines are Brunswick A-2 pinsetters.

THEFT REPORTED

Bethlehem Names Aides

Walter E. Harris has been appointed plant manager of U.S. Steel's American Bridge Division at South San Francisco.

He has been superintendent of the Maywood plant of the former Consolidated Western Steel Division since 1962. Consolidated Western recently was combined with American Bridge.

A native San Franciscan, Harris began his U.S. Steel career in 1949 following his graduation from the University of California. He is a past chairman and

He and his wife, Rosemarie, have three children: Walter, Susan and Michael. The family will move to the Bay Area from Brea.

Coleman to Head Branch Of Crocker

Robert D. Coleman, formerly an assistant cashier in the personnel department of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, has been appointed an assistant vice president and manager of the bank's branch office at 33 Southgate Avenue in the Westlake Shopping Center.

He succeeds David L. Hornstein who has been transferred to the bank's administrative headquarters for future assignment.

Coleman's appointment was announced by Emmett G. Solomon, president of Crocker-Citizens.

The new manager is a native of San Francisco and a graduate of the University of San Francisco.

He joined Crocker-Citizens in 1949 and served in various capacities in the bank's head office in San Francisco until 1957 when he was named assistant manager of the Fillmore branch.

Shotgun Rites Aren't Wanted

SPEAKING through his legislative secretary, Paul Ward, Gov. Edmund Brown has shown singularly small appreciation of the efforts being made by the people of the Peninsula and San Mateo County to meet their own needs for rapid transit.

When a delegation from this county conferred with Ward upon what type of legislation for this purpose might gain the approval of the governor, who must sign any enabling act, they were told:

"We are agreeable to anything that can be worked out with BARTD (Bay Area Rapid Transit District)," Ward said. "It is just that simple."

PERHAPS we can make it even more simple. This makes it quite plain that the only thing that will content the governor is a shotgun marriage of Peninsula transit with BARTD. On top of this, we can be certain that BARTD would demand a substantial marriage settlement.

There is, of course, no reason why any Peninsula transit system could not be profitably allied, or, to a greater or lesser degree, integrated with BARTD. Indeed, there is every reason to believe that this would be both desirable and necessary.

But there is little possibility that Peninsulans from either San Mateo or Santa Clara counties will be willingly disposed to accomplish harmony of relationship with BARTD by having both barrels of a gubernatorial shotgun rammed into their shorttrubs.

SAN MATEO COUNTY, in particular, has transit requisites of its own. One of them is that it must have alliance and connections with any transit system in Santa Clara County and that the interests of these two counties closely coincide.

Another is that San Mateo County has lateral, east-west, transit needs that cannot be met by any exclusively north-south system.

Still another requisite is that any tax contribution by San Mateo County citizens be for their own benefit and not for the purpose of providing intracity surface transport in outside cities and counties.

San Mateo County has shown a sincere purpose in its effort to solve the transit problem and is willing to finance its own studies of how to best meet that problem. There is no good reason why it should not be allowed to make these studies.

In fact, the findings may indicate that the best way to meet the needs of the county is through the structure of BARTD. But, whatever the outcome, the county's effort to solve the transit problem should not be predestined, forcibly, by the governor.

Angie Has Them Both

SOME MOVIE ACTRESSES have personality, some have looks and when they have both, they look like Angie Dickinson. The combustible blonde has plenty of each and is using both to good advantage for a career that can always use help.

The former Angeline Brown from Kulm, N.D., whose legs are insured for a million dollars, isn't afraid to speak her mind—another advantage in her favor.

"I think I'm really on my way now," she said candidly over lunch at Trader Vic's. Having signed a long term contract with Universal Studios, she got a choice part opposite Gregory Peck and Tony Curtis in the dramatization of Leo Rosten's best selling novel, "Captain Newman, M.D.," which is now playing at the Manor and Laurel theatres.

"If the chemistry is wrong I just can't get warmed up. Troy Donohue in 'Rome Adventure' is an example. Face it, the boy has a problem. Consequently I was bad and so was the movie. Gregory Peck is good chemistry."

WITH THIS REMARK, she gave me a coy knowing look and I was led to ask about Frank Sinatra's appeal, when she played opposite in "Ocean's 11."

"Frankie knows where I am if he wants me. I love him dearly but I don't play games with his crowd."

Howard Hawks, discoverer of such new faces as Carole Lombard, Rita Hayworth, and Lauren Bacall, first cast her in "Rio Bravo" with John Wayne. Then she was the nurse in "Bramble Bush" with the then not yet notorious Richard Burton.

"I was like personal property and when Dee Hartford divorced Howard, my contract went with her half. That's when I was loaned out for Jessica opposite Maurice Chevalier."

"But I didn't get anywhere at Warner Bros. either. Jack Warner knows how to make good pictures but he cast me in some of the worst ones. I was determined to hold out for good scripts and roles. That's the only way to get ahead."

SHE ADMITS having a lot to learn. The theory often is to learn how to handle the bosses first and acting style much later. "I had to keep my name alive so I went into a Broadway play, 'The Perfect Set-up.' It lasted exactly" and here she kittenishly held up four fingers. The press unanimously jumped at the bait. "Four weeks or months," we prodded. "Days," she said demurely, biting her lower lip and rolling her eyes.

"I had turned down The Courtship of Eddie's Father with Glenn Ford because I didn't want to be the Pat Neal or Yvonne DeCarlo of 1964. Everything's working swell for me now, the studio even sent me on this tour with a personal hair dresser. I have difficult hair, you know."

The actress seems to have made up her mind about being a star which means an eventual clash of personality as to whether she'll get her way. "I can always refuse to do a picture if I don't like the story. I've done it before and haven't been sorry. I'm single right now but when I have a fellow to love, I'll just spend my time with him rather than do a bad picture."

PHYLLIS ADAMS ruled as Miss Daly City in 1956 after she gained the judges' nod over four other contestants. A graduate of Balboa High School in San Francisco, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Adams of 34 Brooklawn Avenue, Daly City. In 1958, she married Stanley Jones and three years ago the couple moved to Pacifica where they live at 840 Montezuma Drive. They have three children: Susan, 4, Brian, 3, and Stanley, 2. Entries are now being taken in the 1964 Miss Daly City contest, sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce. Judging will be June 10. (Post-Times Photo)

His Headache Sloshes a Bit

Ron Bates

YOU NEED WATER to wash down aspirin and I'll bet that's about the only good thing that Daly City Engineer Bill Chapman has been thinking about water in the past few months.

Between homes about to slide down the hill in the new section of town and hills sliding down into homes in the older section of town, Chapman has had his work cut out for him.

The latest problem to plague Chapman is the flooding of Valley and Second Streets whenever the rains come.

This soggy headache has its origin in two parts of the county on opposite sides of the city. Mud and silt from the construction site of the Market Street extension to Bayshore is being washed down through the city's drainage system and is being deposited at the end of the drainage line in Colma Creek behind Milllett's Motel.

The mud and silt have acted like a plug and water backs up and out of the catch basins on Valley and Second.

A GROUP of angry citizens appeared at a recent city council meeting to complain? The council, aware of and sympathetic to the problem, assured them action was being taken.

City Attorney Paul Hupp was told to start legal proceedings to obtain an injunction that would enable city crews to go in right away and clean out the mud and silt. The county, in the past, has been hesitant to move onto private property in cases like this and the city doesn't want to take chances.

City crews were there working all last week and Chapman has been putting his head together with County Engineer Don Wilson on the problem.

One of the residents, in typical protesting taxpayer style, asked for fast and furious action now.

Chapman assured him of fast action, saying: "We don't like to get into our bathing trunks and pull those people out."

CHAPMAN, more than anyone else in the city, is alert to the problems of bringing water in and taking water out.

It was his summer maintenance program of cleaning out storm drains that saved the city from a great deal of damage during the big storm of October 1962. The storm caused a big flood in Oakland and caused damage in Pacifica—claims from which are still being negotiated in courts.

Storms come in varying degrees of intensity over periods of time. There are ten-year, 50-year and 100-year storms and most drains are designed for the ten-year storm.

Only cemeteries plan for the 100-year storm, Chapman said. The thought of coffins floating down the street isn't too appealing.

Chapman said last week that the city's drainage lines are being replaced slowly but surely and in the lowest and most troublesome parts of the system he will plan for the 50-year storm.

The engineer was named Daly City's "most distinguished citizen" by the Jaycees recently. He's capable and confident that he can get rid of most of the city's engineering headaches. But recently, he's developed the habit of constantly looking to the skies and waiting for the phone to ring.

IT'S NOT always the big, big storms that bring problems. Millbrae is being sued—by 43 residents—and a post office—for flood damage caused by recent rains.

The lawsuits have jumped the city's flood insurance rates up from $2,100 to $3,500 annually. This caused Millbrae's Mayor Webb Witmer to ask the North County Council of Cities to study the possibility of having cities negotiate for insurance as a single voice.

Millbrae, he said, has been sued for everything from soup to nuts this year. The city is also the defendant in a $3.5 million lawsuit for "conflict of interest" in a tower-apartment project.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

This is by way of thanking our new councilman, Albert Polonsky, for settling an issue for us that has been pending these many years, and that is, to finally obtain for us our cul-de-sac.

This was supposed to have been completed when the apartment house on Southgate was built a year ago, at which time a portion of our block was rezoned B-3.

However, nothing was done—although repeated phone calls were made to both the Planning Commission and City Council by residents of the court, requesting fulfillment of the agreement.

Nothing, that is to say, until Mr. Polonsky was invited to view this unfinished business and one week to the day Mr. Polonsky visited the court, the work was started and is now well on its way.

BOOKS

ONE FAT ENGLISHMAN. By Kingsley Amis. Harcourt, Brace. $3.95.

The hero—or really, the villain—of this feather-weight bit of nonsense is Roger Micheldene, a fat English publisher who for a few weeks is visiting America.

Most of the time he is on the campus of Budweiser, where he is stalking Helene, the sexy

Danish-American wife of a philologist, trying to make her his mistress.

Roger is utterly disgusting. Not only is he a lecher and a glutton, but also a snob—the nastiest kind, the condescending, boorish, overbearing, mouthy snob. Amis has done a slapdash, broadly garish portrait of this offensive type to be found among his countrymen.

TO THE EDITOR:

I believe the honored office of school trustee or councilman is a time consuming responsibility if one is to give dedicated representation.

Having attended school unification meetings, council meetings and study session, I have been taught through experience.

Therefore, when a man in all sincerity thinks he can be at once councilman and school trustee and still give me good government, I question his common sense.

How can a man holding both offices be personally present at both meetings in their entirety? Second hand information is never like being present.

Mrs. Guido Merlini
74 Vale Street

(Editor's Note: The candidate to whom Mrs. Merlini refers has stated unequivocally that he would resign his school board post if elected to the city council. He further has stated that both boards are policy-making bodies and that in any event, he would not be able to give full attention to both.)

Pacific Parade

'Twas the Week That Was Not

Don Miller

THIS WAS the week that wasn't:

Daly City and Pacifica, flushed with brotherly love in the wake of their land trade, decided to extend the love affair and swap a few other things.

Pacifica with great magnanimity offered to trade its old Sharp Park outfall line for Daly City's new outfall line with a few SCUBA dive inspectors thrown in.

Daly City smelled something rotten in that kind of deal and retaliated by offering to trade the Cow Palace for Pacifica's ocean beaches.

The bovine emporium got whiff of this proposal and threatened to institute de-annexation procedures and get out of Daly City altogether.

The Republican National Committee did not like that idea for the GOP had already spent half million for literature advertising Daly City as the home of the 1964 Republican Convention.

HIZZONER, Mayor Micheal DeBernardi, stayed aloof from all these goings-on for he was too busy teaching a class of city employees how to spell his first name—correctly that is.

He had to shout because of all the racket Messrs. Pacelli, Polonsky, Noonan, Kirchhubel, Giammona and Miss Bauer were making outside, nailing up "vote for me" signs.

You knew the election campaign was getting hot, by the way, for there was so much oratory that one day the sky was full of pie.

Which would have been all right except the kids in the Laguna Salada School district didn't buy any dessert that day—and that threw the cafeteria program back into the red.

One candidate promised that if elected, he would have San Francisco extend not only its Muni buses to Daly City but the California Street cable car line as well.

Northgate Transit Company huffily reacted to that proposal and countered with a plan to reduce fares and run its buses on three-minute headways with standing room prohibited.

Another candidate promised to badger the state division of parks and beaches until the 50 cent parking fee was eliminated at Thornton Beach.

When the Governor, worried to death over his budget, got wind of that one, he wired the candidate and threatened to build a double-decked, 16-lane freeway right smack through Westlake if he heard one more word about reducing state revenue.

THE ELECTION campaign wasn't getting hepped up only in Daly City.

Over in Pacifica where there are so many candidates running it looks like a bargain basement free-for-all, the oratory was deafening.

Mayor Harold Feyge, who is about the only one in Pacifica not running this year (he holds a life membership on the council), got hoarse trying to be heard above the din when he tried to inform fellow Pacificans that the Army Engineers—after a 30-year study—had decided to recommend the construction of a 40-foot high, ivy-covered seawall running from Pacific Manor to Pedro Point.

This, he shouted, would eliminate all that erosion, which last week had claimed City Hall and was advancing on the eighth green at Sharp Park.

His political opponents, however, promptly charged that the seawall would also eliminate surfing, fishing and a view of the new $5-million Linda Mar outfall aqueduct, a brick and mosaic structure considered by effluent experts as a sewage sensation.

One Pacifica candidate gained the support of merchants when he promised to eliminate all billboards except one—and THAT one would run the entire length of the city and proclaim: "Buy Pacifica."

Another candidate said the idea was ridiculous—that the billboard would block out motorists' views of the orchards that had been planted to landscape Pacifica's new freeway.

SEVERAL NEW detours along the freeway, by the way, were opened and state engineers said they brought the total number of detours in operation to 438.

One of the detours re-routed motorists out to Mori Point and past the new multi-million dollar Pacifica Hilton, rushed to completion to accommodate the hordes who plan to hear State Controller Alan Cranston tell Pacifica Jaycee Charter Night celebrants that what Pacifica needs is more industry and less recreation.

Another detour took motorists past the new Sanchez Adobe Shopping Center, a bustling complex of businesses boasting 47 gas stations, 29 hot dog stands and an information booth with detailed maps on how to find the monument amid all this clutter.

And that was the week that wasn't.

All of which is our way of saying on this All Fools Day—APRIL FOOL!

Getting Up on The Wrong Side

George Whitesell

THERE ARE old folklore theories that "if you get out of bed on the wrong side" you will be grouchy all day long, and that a mishap in starting the day, such as breaking a shoestring, is an omen that more trouble will be ahead for the rest of the day.

This department has been testing these theories for quite a spell and the results are inconclusive.

The investigation, however, did produce some curious findings.

For example, that a great many people can't possibly get up on the wrong side of the bed because the wrong side of the bed is against a wall.

We learned, also, that grouchy people will never admit the fact.

If you ask them if they got out of the wrong side of the bed the answer will come back something like this:

"What kind of a damfool question is that? I am no grouchy, I am as sunny as two fried eggs. Now get the hell out of here before I lose my temper."

In all fairness, confirmed grouches are not continuously choleric. Unless you touch one of their sore spots they laugh and smile just like anyone else. The difficulty is that they have more sore spots than other people.

CONFIRMED GROUCHES are actually quite rare, but you never have trouble finding them. Their reputation spreads afar and this is OK with them—they don't want to be bothered.

They are no more irritating, really, than the hearty souls who are always overly good-natured and go around spreading spurious sunshine where it is not wanted.

Luckily the majority of us escape these two extremes and are just ordinary folk who have both good and bad days without paying much attention.

The people with whom we associate daily are more apt to be noticeable of how we will react than ourselves. They can generally predict whether we will come up with a grouch or a grin in any given situation.

Our occasional fits of grouchiness and the days on which "everything goes wrong" often seem to coincide.

If we "get out of bed on the wrong side" there is a very good chance that we will find things going wrong until something cheers or charms us out of our bad moods.

It can start with that proverbial shoestring. If a temper tantrum causes us to give it an extra hard tug, it will snap.

From that point on breakfast will be bad, the traffic terrific, and the boss impossible.

THE SHOESTRING, of course, was just an innocent victim and there are likely to be more of them before the day is done.

But this is not always the case. It is also possible to wake up blithe and happy and then promptly plunge into a day of disasters.

Nearly everyone experiences a day of this kind now and then. You get the feeling that fate has conspired against you.

Such days are responsible for two classic American expressions: "Mother never told me there would be days like this;" and "I shoulda stood in bed."

VERY FEW PEOPLE can afford the luxury of going back to bed and sleeping out a day of hard luck. Most of them have to take whatever comes and, as the day wears on, they wind up with a grouch no matter how they started.

From this department's investigation of this sorry subject, a pair of points emerged. 1. Don't expect any sympathy, you are much more liable to be laughed at; and 2. Don't try to take out either a grouch or hard luck on other people—They may bite back, and they are almost certain to remember what you said.

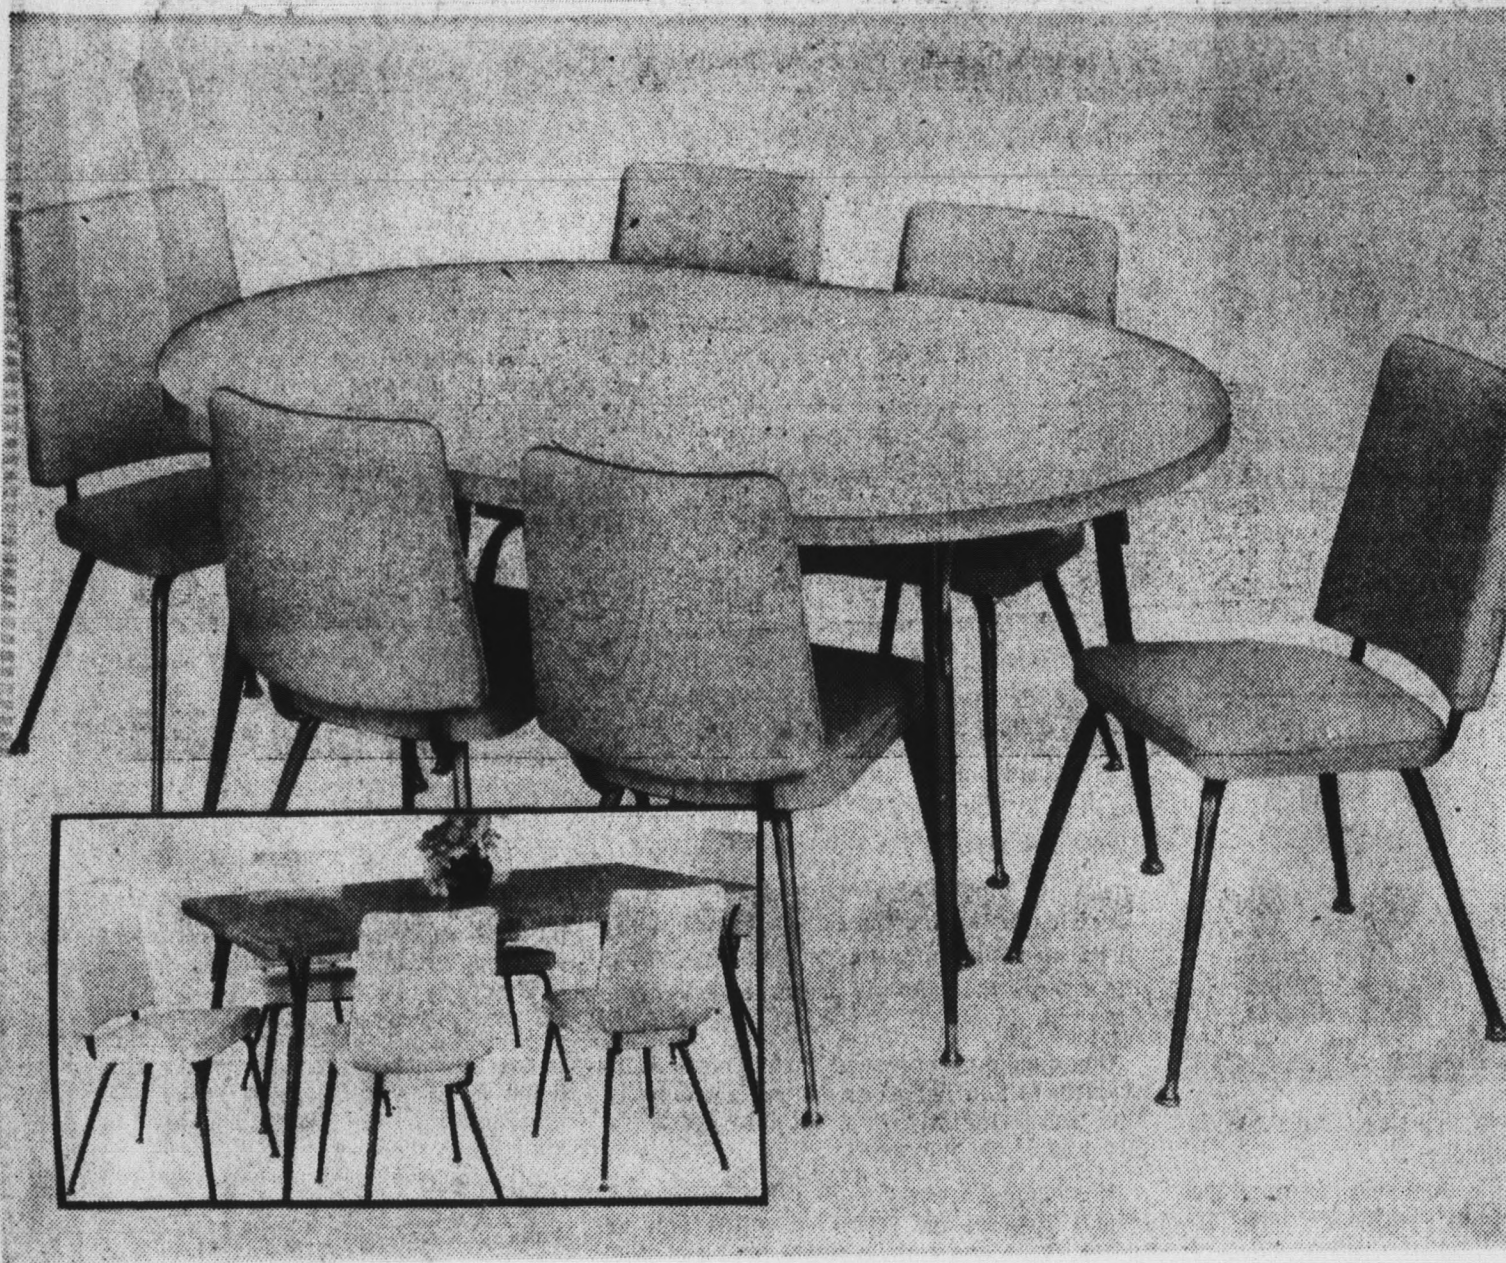

A "bad day" is your own personal curse or did long after you have forgotten.

And, just to be safe, it costs nothing to move the "wrong side" of your bed up against the wall.

New Face on Mission Street

HERE IS the new home of the First National Bank of Daly City at 6600 Mission Street, which will be dedicated at 11:30 a.m. today. City, civic and bank officials will participate. A week-long open house celebration will get underway Monday. A sign for the building will be installed this week. (Post-Times Photo)

NEW BUILDING

Week-Long Open House Fete Set By 1st National

A week-long open house celebration next week will mark the opening of First National Bank of Daly City's new building at 6600 Mission Street next week. The bank will officially begin business in its new quarters Monday. It has been operating at 150 San Pedro Avenue.

Apartment Approved by S.S.F. Unit

Planning commissioners in South San Francisco last week:

Approved two variances for William Botteff to build apartments at 631 and 641 Grand Avenue, after several reviews of his plans.

Allowed Emmett J. Blincoe to withdraw plans for a similar dwelling at 644 Commercial Avenue.

Granted a variance to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Giannecchini, 411 Baden Avenue, to maintain an existing 12-foot encroachment into a required 15-foot setback.

Approved a three-foot encroachment into a five-foot side yard, for Vernon A. Mazzali, 816 West Orange Avenue.

Granted a variance for a 10-foot rear yard required on East Harris Avenue in the Industrial Park, to D. J. Simpson Company.

Approved a variance allowing Manuel J. Fries to maintain only three feet between two buildings at 633 Mayfair Avenue instead of the normal 10 feet.

Granted Marco Senaldi permission to have 20 parking stalls on Airport Boulevard instead of the required 43.

Recommended a use permit for Lou Pucci, for a dwelling at 465 Commercial Avenue in an apartment zone.

Approved a use permit for Oliver O. Allen, 316 Alida Way, for a 14-unit apartment in Country Club Park.

Agreed to Imperial 400 Motel's request for six additional signs on their building at Airport Boulevard and Bayshore.

Approved the request of Magliocco-Gomez, Inc., for a sign at Chestnut Avenue and Mission Road, to advertise a residential development.

Gave approval to Person & Swanson to maintain two signs, on Lot 1 of Block 1, and on Lot 28 of Block 1, on San Mateo Avenue.

An amended, tentative subdivision map for the Industrial Park land owned by Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, was also approved.

Television star Mayor Art will inaugurate the celebration with a special program for children at 7 p.m. Monday, according to P. Evert Terminello, executive vice president of First National.

During the remainder of the week, two special exhibits will be on display.

They are an electronic exhibit explaining the make-up and use of microwaves, constructed by College of San Mateo students, and a collection of more than 100 pictures of Daly City, dating back to shortly after the turn of the century.

Terminello said that invitations have been extended to area schools to bring students to see the exhibits.

One of the highlights of the open house program will be a "millionaire for a day" contest.

The visitor coming closest to guessing the exact amount of money in a glass container in the bank lobby will have a savings account opened in his name and credited with the interest on $1 million for one day.

Second and third place guessers will win savings accounts of $25 and $10.

Concluding the week's festivities will be a parade of antique autos through Daly City Friday afternoon. After the parade, the autos will be on display at the bank.

Refreshments will be served to visitors during the open house program. Each family will receive a gift of 12 prize-winning gladiola bulbs.

Boys Rescued From Cliff Top

Daly City firemen last Wednesday rescued two young brothers from the top of an 80-foot cliff, overlooking a road grading project.

The boys, William, 7, and Joseph, 5, of 401 Crocker Avenue, had clambered up to the top of the cliff overlooking the Brunswick Street extension project. They were removed without injury and sent home after a stern warning not to play in the area again.

BURGLARY REPORTED

James R. Mackey of 145 Price Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that a television set, tape recorder, guitar, and amplifier and a sewing machine had been stolen from his residence. He said the items were valued at a total of $650.

GUARANTEED INSTALLATION

Tacked down or tackless—no guesswork here. Olson carpeting is installed by qualified, experienced men. Olson guarantees every installation to your complete satisfaction.

Beautiful carpeting from $5.99 to $18.97 a sq. yd.

It's no secret. We just like to put more into our rugs and carpeting and sell factory-to-you. Olson has been weaving quality rugs and carpeting since 1874. We know what long-wearing fibers, and how many must be used for lasting beauty and durability. There is no substitute for deep dense pile, woven tightly together. Low priced carpeting can be found anywhere—but real carpeting values are Olson's business.

An Alaska Pie Demands a Party

Usually it's the occasion that sparks the ideas for a party, but, in the case of this Blueberry Mountain Alaska Pie, it's the dish that demands the party. This is a dessert that is colorful and pretty, one to definitely add to your dessert repertoire. So reach for the phone and ask the couple next door over for coffee and pie or plan a luncheon for your card club with pie as the grand finale.

The froth of delicately browned meringue that tops this fabulous pie hides a luscious filling, a filling that combines rich vanilla ice cream and blueberry pie filling. Each is layered in a chilled baked pie shell—first the softened ice cream, then the blueberry filling spooned from the can.

As these layers freeze to chilly perfection, whip egg whites till they form soft peaks and spread over the pie filling. Be sure to push the meringue out to the crust of the pie to seal and protect the filling as the topping browns during a quick trip to the oven.

This is a wonderful way to combine blueberry pie filling and ice cream, a delicious reason to have a party.

BLUEBERRY MOUNTAIN ALASKA PIE

1 9-inch baked pie shell
1 quart vanilla ice cream, slightly softened
1 No. 2 can (2½ cups) blueberry pie filling
4 egg whites, at room temperature
¼ cup sugar
Chill pie shell. Spoon ice cream into shell. Spoon blueberry pie filling over ice cream; freeze. Beat egg whites just until frothy. Sprinkle sugar, a tablespoon at a time, over egg whites, beating until stiff peaks form. Spread meringue over pie filling, carefully sealing to edges. Place on board in oven. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 to 3 minutes or until meringue is delicately browned. Serve immediately.

Can You Name Roast Beef Cuts?

Tender, juicy, mouth-watering roast beef, perhaps brought to the table artistically garnished with broiled mushrooms, spells eating at its finest whatever the occasion. But when it comes to selecting beef for roasting, are you really certain which cuts to choose?

Beef can be divided into two categories... tender and less tender... and the cooking method follows accordingly, states meat authority Reba Staggs. The less-tender cuts require moist heat braising in a covered utensil to be tender when served.

Roasting, that is cooking the meat uncovered in the oven, is recommended only for the tender beef roasts. And which are these?

Of course, you can name standing and rolled rib roasts, rib eye or Delmonico roasts and beef tenderloin. But some cuts from the round may also be roasted. If the meat is very high quality with ample marbling through the lean, the following cuts qualify: sirloin tip roast (sometimes called short sirloin, top sirloin or sirloin butt), standing rump and rolled rump.

Roasting Procedures
To cook beef cuts by roasting, place the meat fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert a meat thermometer so that the bulb rests in the center of the roast but not in fat or on bone.

Roast in a slow oven (300 to 325 degrees F.) until the meat thermometer registers 140 degrees F. for rare, 160 degrees F. for medium and 170 degrees F. for well done.

Mushroom Garnish
Since March is National Mushroom Month, you'll enjoy a delicious fresh mushroom garnish for the roast beef platter.

Try deviled mushrooms prepared by stuffing the centers of 6 large mushrooms with a 2½-ounce can of deviled ham. Broil 3 or 4 minutes to brown bread crumbs.

Mushroom Recipe Uses Eight Eggs

Like mushrooms? They've been reasonable lately at Peninsula markets. Here's a new recipe — eggs and mushrooms hollandaise.

Eggs 'n Mushrooms Hollandaise

Yield: 4 servings
4 eggs, poached
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
4 egg yolks
1 stick (½ cup) butter, melted
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ cup boiling water
1 to 2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup bread crumbs

Melt 2 tablespoons butter in an 8 inch square baking dish. Sauté mushrooms in butter. Arrange 4 poached eggs on top of mushrooms. Place egg yolks in top of double boiler. Stir egg yolks, adding ¼ cup melted butter gradually. Season with salt and paprika. Add boiling water, stirring constantly. Set mixture over hot (not boiling) water (water should not touch bottom of bowl). Stir and cook until thickened. Remove from heat and add lemon juice to taste. Pour sauce over eggs and mushrooms. Top with crumbs. Broil 3 or 4 minutes to brown bread crumbs.

COFFEE FRUIT DROPS and other goodies are contained in recipes found in Betty Crocker Cookie Book. Excellent for lunches.

Bake Cookies To Spice Lunch

Each day millions of lunches go off to school and work and many of them include cookies. Happy is the man or child who finds a delicious homemade cooky in his lunchbox with perhaps some extras to share.

Coffee Fruit Drops are spicy cookies flavored with coffee, full of raisins and nuts and their cake-like texture is kept moist with copped raw apple. A cooky that keeps well is ideal for the lunchbox. Fig Nut Squares are moist, rich and chewy and one of these good keepers.

Raisin Crisscross Cookies have a delicious lemon flavor that complements the plump raisins and pleases the lunchers. And an extra special treat is Golden Nuggets! The special treat is chopped apricots in a brown sugar cooky, rolled in flaked coconut and topped with a toasted almond.

COFFEE FRUIT DROPS
2 cups peeled and finely chopped apple
1 cup strong coffee or 1 tsp. powdered instant coffee dissolved in 1 cup water
1 cup sugar
½ cup shortening
1 cup raisins
1 tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. cloves
¼ tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups flour
1 tsp. soda
½ tsp. salt
4 cup chopped walnuts
Cook apple, coffee, sugar, shortening, raisins and spices in saucepan gently until apple is tender. Remove from heat and cool.

Heat oven to 375 degrees (quick mod.). Add vanilla to cooked mixture. Blend flour, soda and salt; stir in. Mix in nuts. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls on ungreased baking sheet. Bake about 12 minutes. Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

To measure flour, dip nested dry measuring cups into flour, level off with straight-edged spatula or sift if you wish.

FIG-NUT SQUARES
2 eggs
½ cup sugar
¼ tsp. vanilla
½ cup flour
¼ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
1½ cups finely cut-up dried figs
1 cup chopped nuts
Heat oven to 350 degrees (moderate). Beat eggs until foamy. Beat in sugar and vanilla. Blend dry ingredients; mix into egg mixture. Add figs and nuts; spread in greased square pan, 9x9x1½ inches. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 25 squares.

To measure flour, dip nested dry measuring cups into flour, level off with straight-edged spatula or sift if you wish.

RAISIN CRISSCROSS COOKIES
½ cup shortening (part butter or margarine)
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
½ tsp. lemon extract
1½ cups flour
¾ tsp. cream of tartar
¾ tsp. soda
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup raisins
Heat oven to 400 degrees (moderately hot). Mix thoroughly shortening, sugar, egg and extract. Blend flour, cream of tartar, soda and salt. Stir into shortening mixture. Mix in raisins. Roll in 1-inch balls. Place about 3 inches apart on ungreased baking sheet. Flatten with fork dipped in flour, making a crisscross pattern. Bake 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

To measure flour, dip nested dry measuring cups into flour, level off with straight-edged spatula or sift if you wish.

GOLDEN NUGGETS
1 cup dried apricots, coarsely cut up
½ cup water
1 cup shortening (part butter or margarine)
½ cup brown sugar (packed)
½ cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 tsp. vanilla
½ tsp. almond flavoring
1½ cups flour
2 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1½ to 2 cups flaked coconut
toasted whole almonds
Cook apricots in water over low heat 5 to 10 minutes. (Water should be absorbed). Cool. Mix shortening and sugars until fluffy. Add egg, flavorings and apricots. Mix flour, baking powder and salt; stir in. Chill dough several hours.

Heat oven to 350 degrees (moderate). Drop heaping teaspoonfuls of dough into coconut to coat. Place 2 inches apart on lightly greased baking sheet. Top with an almond. Bake 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 6 dozen cookies.

To measure flour, dip nested dry measuring cups into flour, level off with straight-edged spatula or sift if you wish.

PORK STEAKS ITALIANO
4 pork arm or blade steaks, cut ½ to ¾ inch thick
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon Italian seasoning
¼ teaspoon basil
½ cup water
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
4 slices Mozzarella cheese
4 green pepper rings, cut 1 inch thick
Brown steaks in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt, pepper, Italian seasoning and basil. Mix water and tomato sauce and add to meat. Cover tightly and cook slowly 30 minutes. Top each steak with a slice of Mozzarella cheese, then with a green pepper ring. Cover and continue cooking 30 minutes or until done. 4 servings.

Melt butter right in the pie pan when you make graham cracker pie crust, advise home economists. Add the crumbs and mix. This saves washing an extra bowl and you won't waste a bit of butter.

DIVIDED ATTENTION—Frank "Frenchy" Dennison, general manager of the Sheraton-Villa Hotel, seems to have a "double occupancy" vision problem as he inspects the sign announcing the April 2 opening of the Sheraton's new French Room, and Alys Swan, who is modeling the latest in French lingerie.

MUSICAL AGGREGATION—Oliver Pacini, Jim Moore, Art Guenther, Joe Marcellino, and Fred Higuera are members of Joe Marcellino's orchestra who will play musical selections for the Saint Dunstan's Womens Club Annual "Artists and Models" Fashion Show to be held at the Millbrae Thunderbird Hotel on Saturday, April 4, at 11:30 a.m. Marcellino's orchestra currently plays for dinner-dancing at A. Sabella's on Fisherman's Wharf, Monday through Sundays.

BILL DANA (Jose Jimenez) and Gogi Grant share the spotlight in the Circus Room Theater Restaurant at John Ascuaga's Nugget in Sparks (East Reno), Nevada. One of the most talented and competent figures in show business today, Bill Dana numbers among his past and present activities: Writer, author, producer, business man, actor-comedian, composer, recording star, and nightclub and concert performer. In Burlingame's delightful French restaurant, La Touraine, a customer asked Maitre d' Andre Dumont if a local artist did the sketch on the restaurant's colorful menu and match book covers. "Not exactly," explained Andre. "The artist was Henri Marie Raymond de Toulouse-Lautrec Monfa." (Better known to art lovers simply as Toulouse-Lautrec, the famed French painter of the late 19th Century. . . . Gala party in the Walnut Room at Phil Lehr's Steakery when Dick Simon hosted a birthday party for pal Wayne McFarlane with an even dozen attending. . . . Lew Lehr wonders, at his Marina Steak House, with astronauts going into politics, if political campaigns will be conducted on a higher plane?
